1966 TOMAHAWK

Susie – I never forget the great times we had – even tho you "sheered" me half to death." We have had lots of fun in School, Church-(Mt. Pleasant) Parties, etc – Youll always be one of my fondest memories – God Bless – Lots of Luck – Joyce Fowler

Sue –

It's been loads of fun in Terms. I couldn't have made it without you and Marsh. I hope everything works out for you Lena though it won't. Always strive for the best out of life which more than likely has nothing what soever to do with money. Be real good.

Susie,
We've had a lot of fun in good ol' art class with "lady" an all. I hope you have a lot of fun this summer and try to stay out of trouble. It's been real nice knowing you and I hope to see you later on. Don't do anything I wouldn't do, and that includes getting married. Be good!

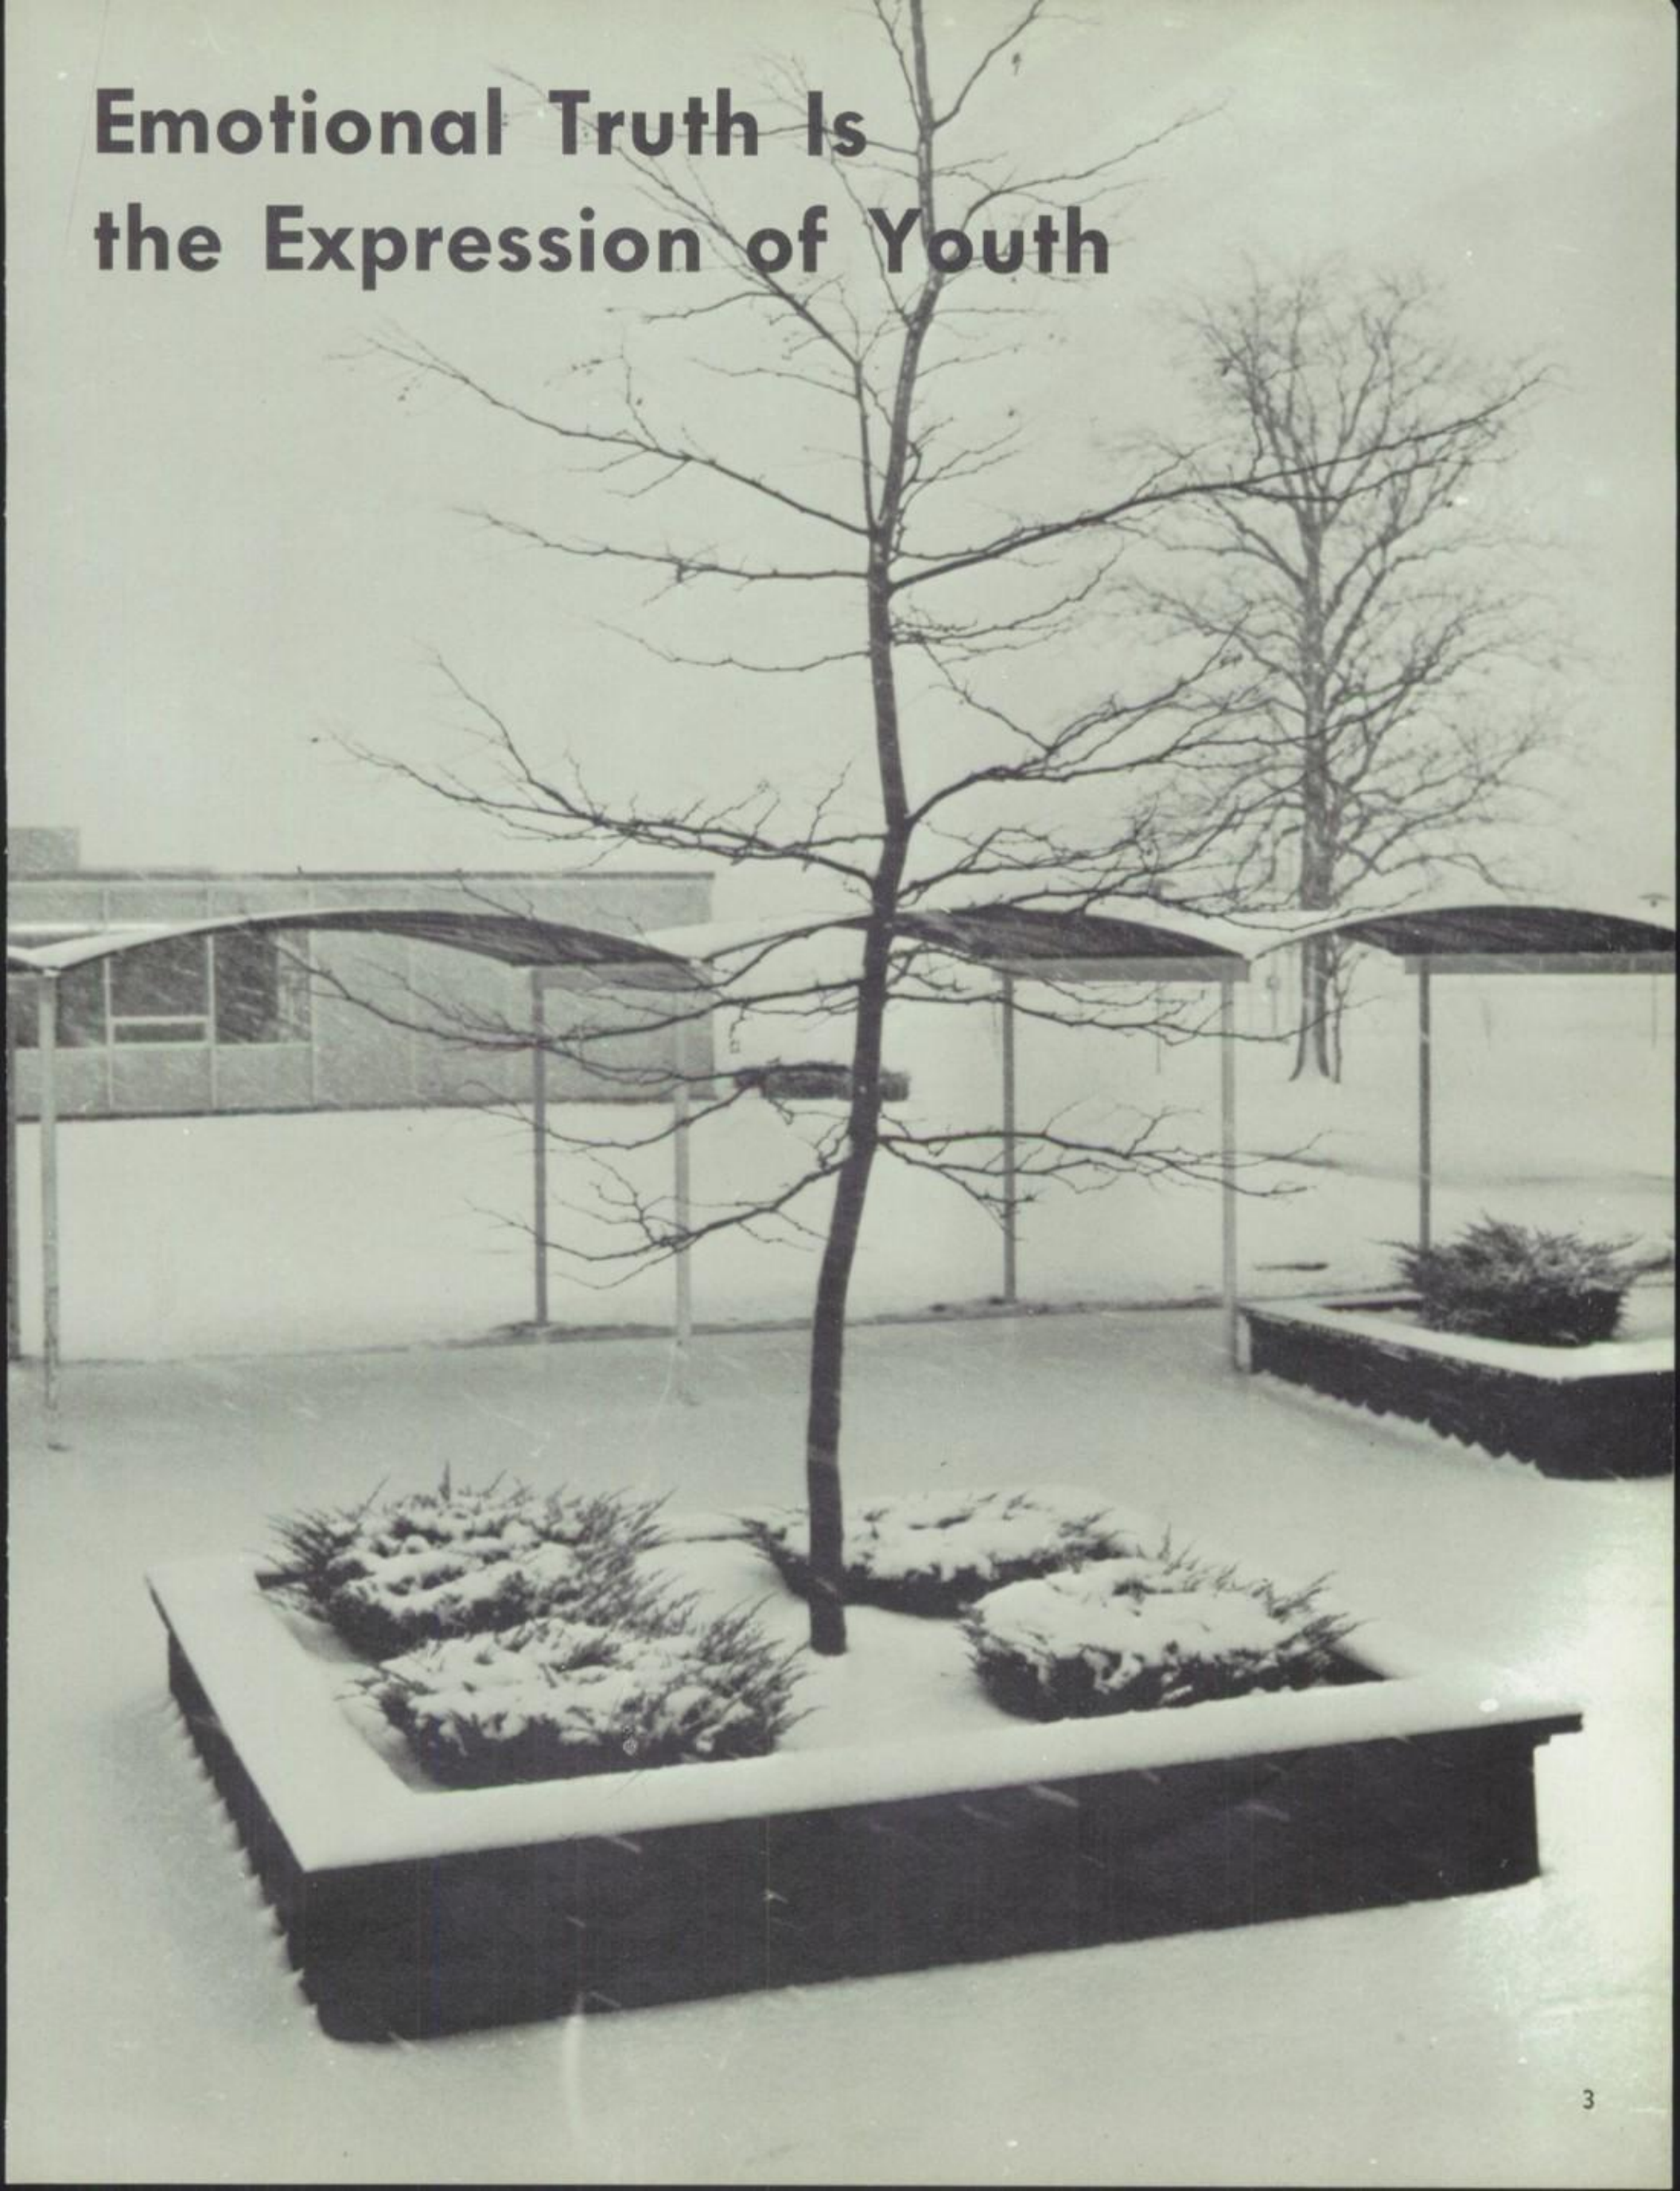
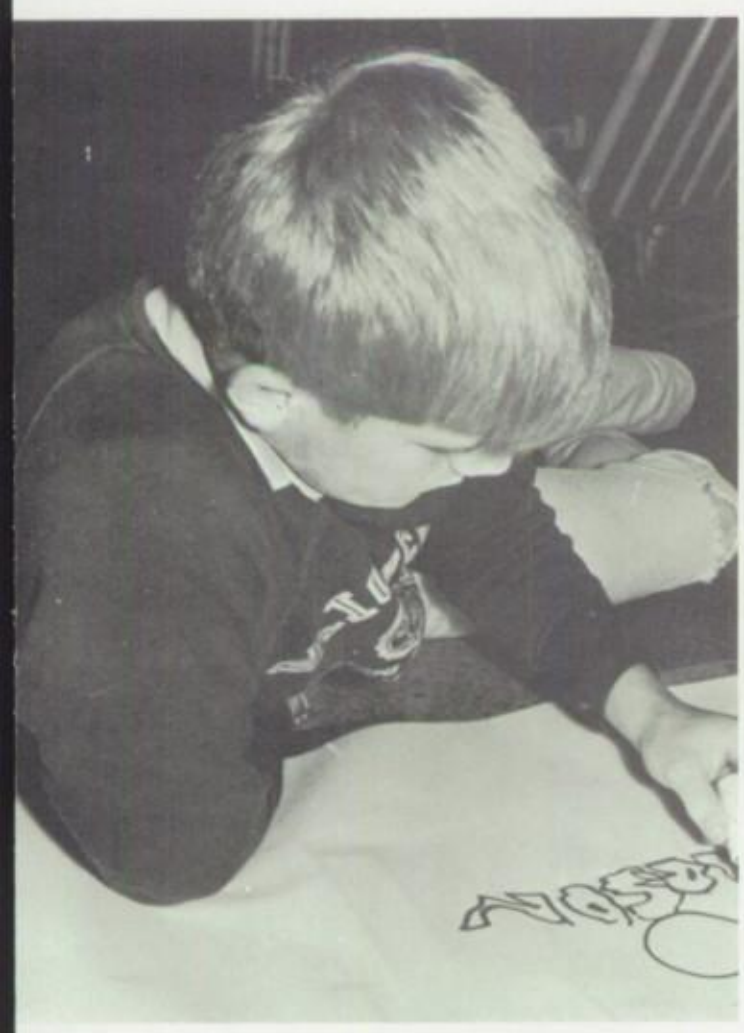
Emotional Truth Is the Expression of Youth



Self-Discovery Belongs to Youth

Dreams of today are ours tomorrow.



We use our hands to express determination and optimism.

Through our eyes we see our expectations build dreams.

Music is a hobby for some, a purpose for others.

Youth in today's world are often stereotyped. But each of us, as individuals, express individual emotions. In academic, social and athletic situations each student has the chance to be himself.

We often cover our own feelings by stepping into the stereotyped role. It is only when we let ourselves be guided by our individual emotions that our true selves are seen. At these moments Okemos High School students are true representatives of youth.

We must find and develop ourselves by adhering to the emotions of enthusiasm, optimism and determination. Emotional truth is the expression of youth.

Maturity, Knowledge and Know-How Are Developed in the Classroom . . .

. . . An Expression of the Mind

Knowledge is everywhere at our disposal; we must seek it and use it to the best advantage. Our resources are many. From our own personal experiences and relationships with others knowledge is gained.

But most important of all, our teachers are constantly striving to instruct us, to invade our minds and to instill us with understanding. Knowledge is omnipresent and a true expression of the mind.

Administration

Superintendent George Richards institutes out school policies.

Guides Okemos School System

Director of Services, Mr. Donald B. Mills works with the business aspects of the school system.

Our school system has been actively improving the educational opportunities for the growing community of knowledge seekers.

Resulting from the bond issue passed in December, plans are being made for new additions to the school system as it endeavors to keep pace with the community for the welfare of its residents.

Mr. George Richards, Superintendent of Schools, works closely with board members to interpret policies and formulate rules accordingly. Director of Services, Mr. Donald Mills, works with him by handling business and financial aspects of the school system.

Mrs. Norma Freeman, works as secretary and switchboard operator in the central office.

Mr. Dolsen Begins

Announcing changes in the day's schedule, secretary Mrs. Betty Durst operates the intercom.

Principal Warren Dolsen checks notes before a faculty meeting.

First Year as Principal of OHS

The administrative hub of OHS is situated in a series of rooms located in the Specialized Learnings building and usually referred to, sometimes in awe, sometimes in a trembling whisper, as simply, "the Office."

In addition to housing assorted file cases, typewriters, telephones, and other business paraphernalia, the office is the home of secretaries, Mrs. Betty Durst and Mrs. Daisy Devlin, and Principal, Mr. Warren Dolsen, whose responsibility it is to see that the school functions and functions as it should.

In his first year as Principal, Mr. Dolsen has proven his capabilities in the administration and enforcement of school policy.

As part of the morning routine, Principal Warren Dolsen and Mrs. Daisy Devlin, secretary, fill out student absence slips.

Secretary, Mrs. Daisy Devlin runs off tests for a class.

Materials on colleges and scholarships are open to all interested students.

"Please help me," is the urgent plea often heard by members of the counseling staff. Always ready to give assistance are Mrs. Thelma Lamb, director of guidance, and Mrs. Dorothy Peterson, counselor.

Guided by our counselors we select our curriculum, decide upon a college to attend, or tentatively select our future career. Our guidance counselors help us determine our potential, provide educational material, and assist us with our personal problems.

With an exceedingly high enrollment of 702 students, OHS counselors face new and challenging duties toward the student body.

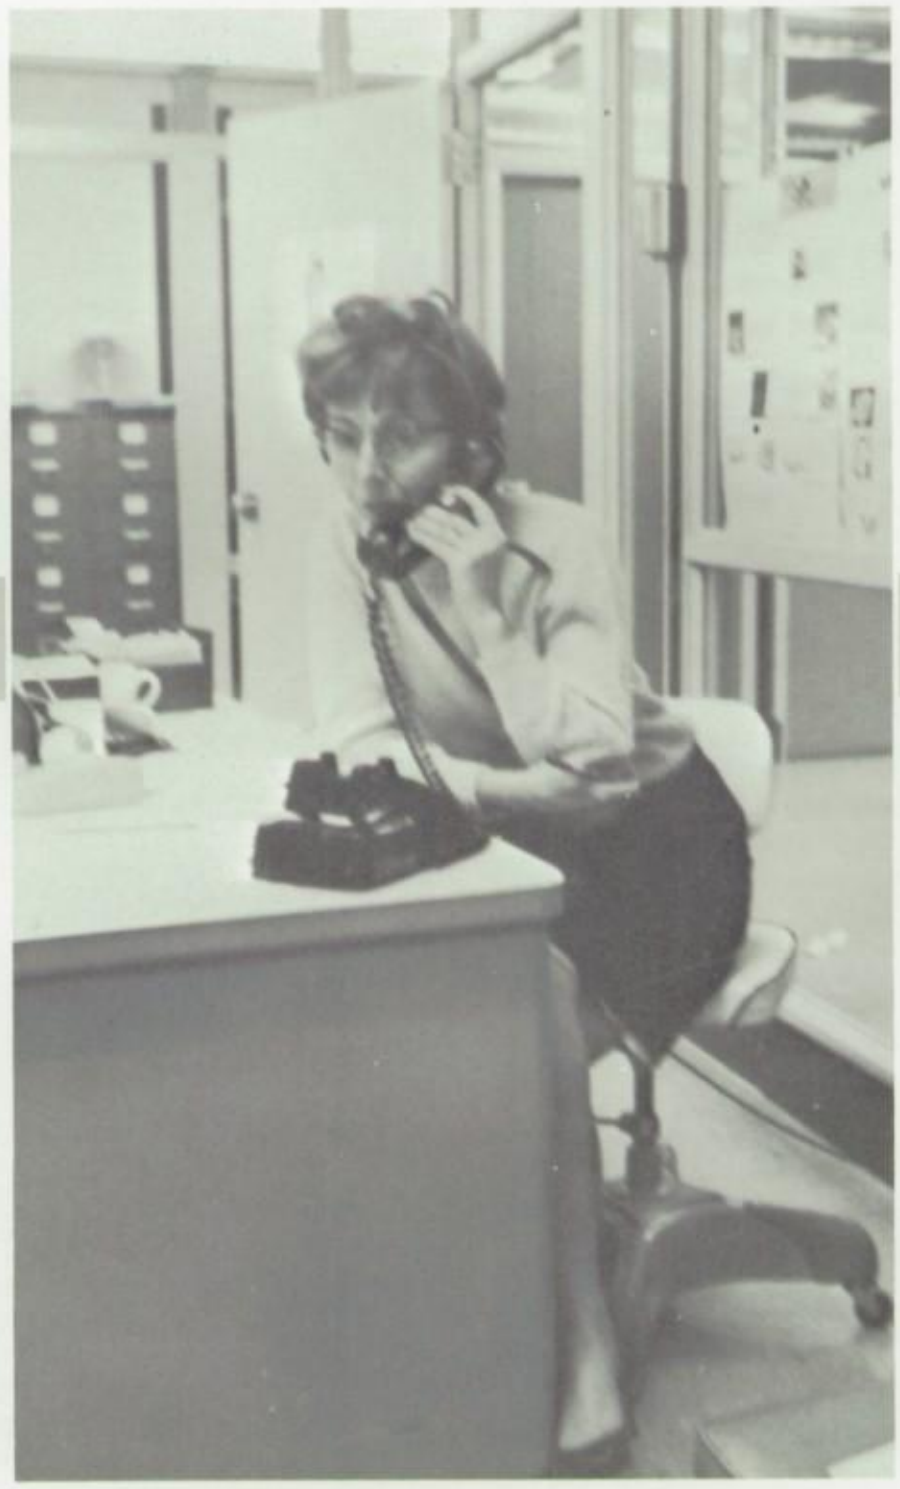
Office assistant, Veinita Gates, works to make the counselors chores a little lighter.



Helping keep the guidance office in order is secretary, Mrs. Helen Jones.

Communication

Sitting in corner, Junior Bill Sower ponders the situation at hand.

To encourage speech and communication among students, our speech department offers a wide variety of speech clubs and contests. Two specific groups are the debate team and the forensic competitions. The debate team, sponsored by Miss Diane Edwards, competes regularly with other schools. The debate team competes yearly for the school championships.

Each spring the speech department sponsors a speech contest open to the student body. Students compete on local, district and regional levels.

Speech students Dennis Valkanoff, Jane Finney, Marsha Anderson and Pete Larson present an impromptu skit in their fourth hour class.

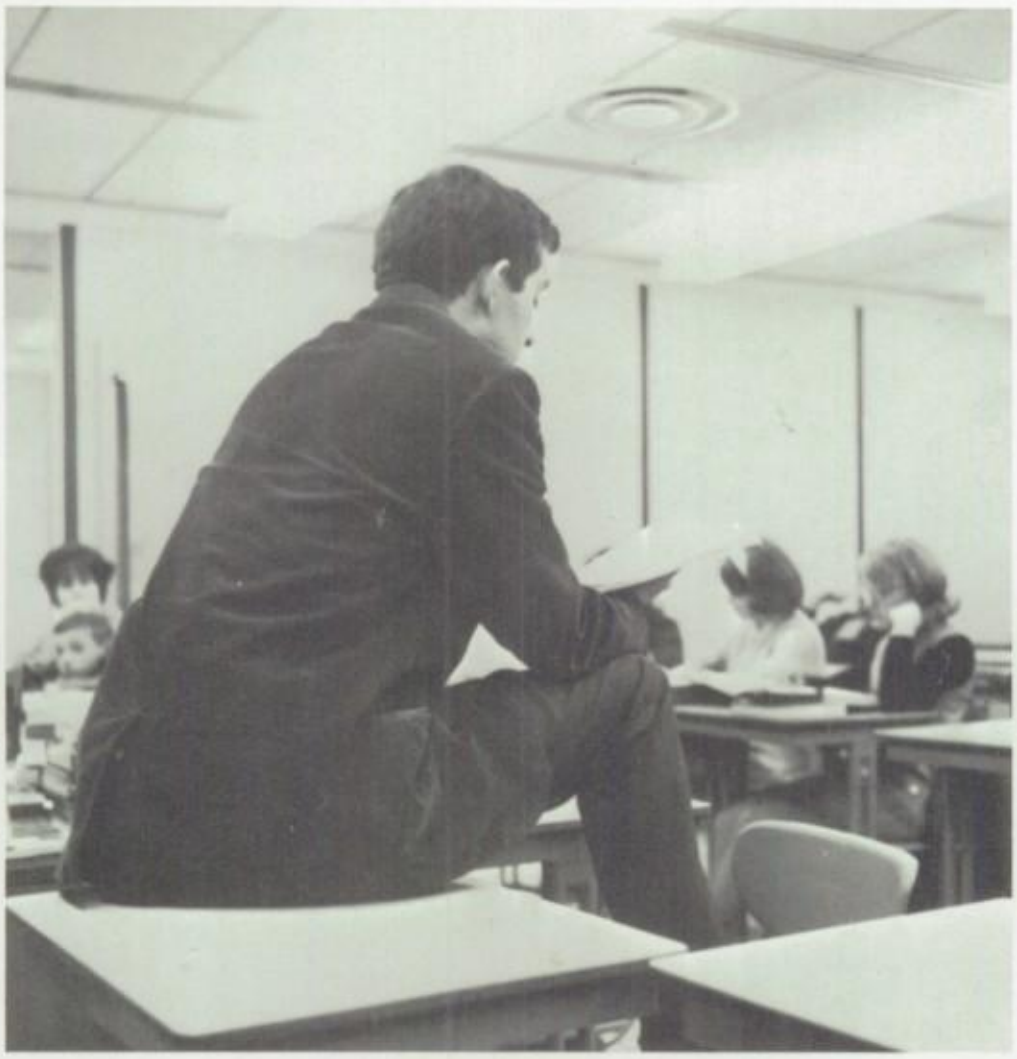
Stressed in Speech, Debate

Seniors Jean Guile, Bob Jacoby and D. J. Drake take part in a practice debate.

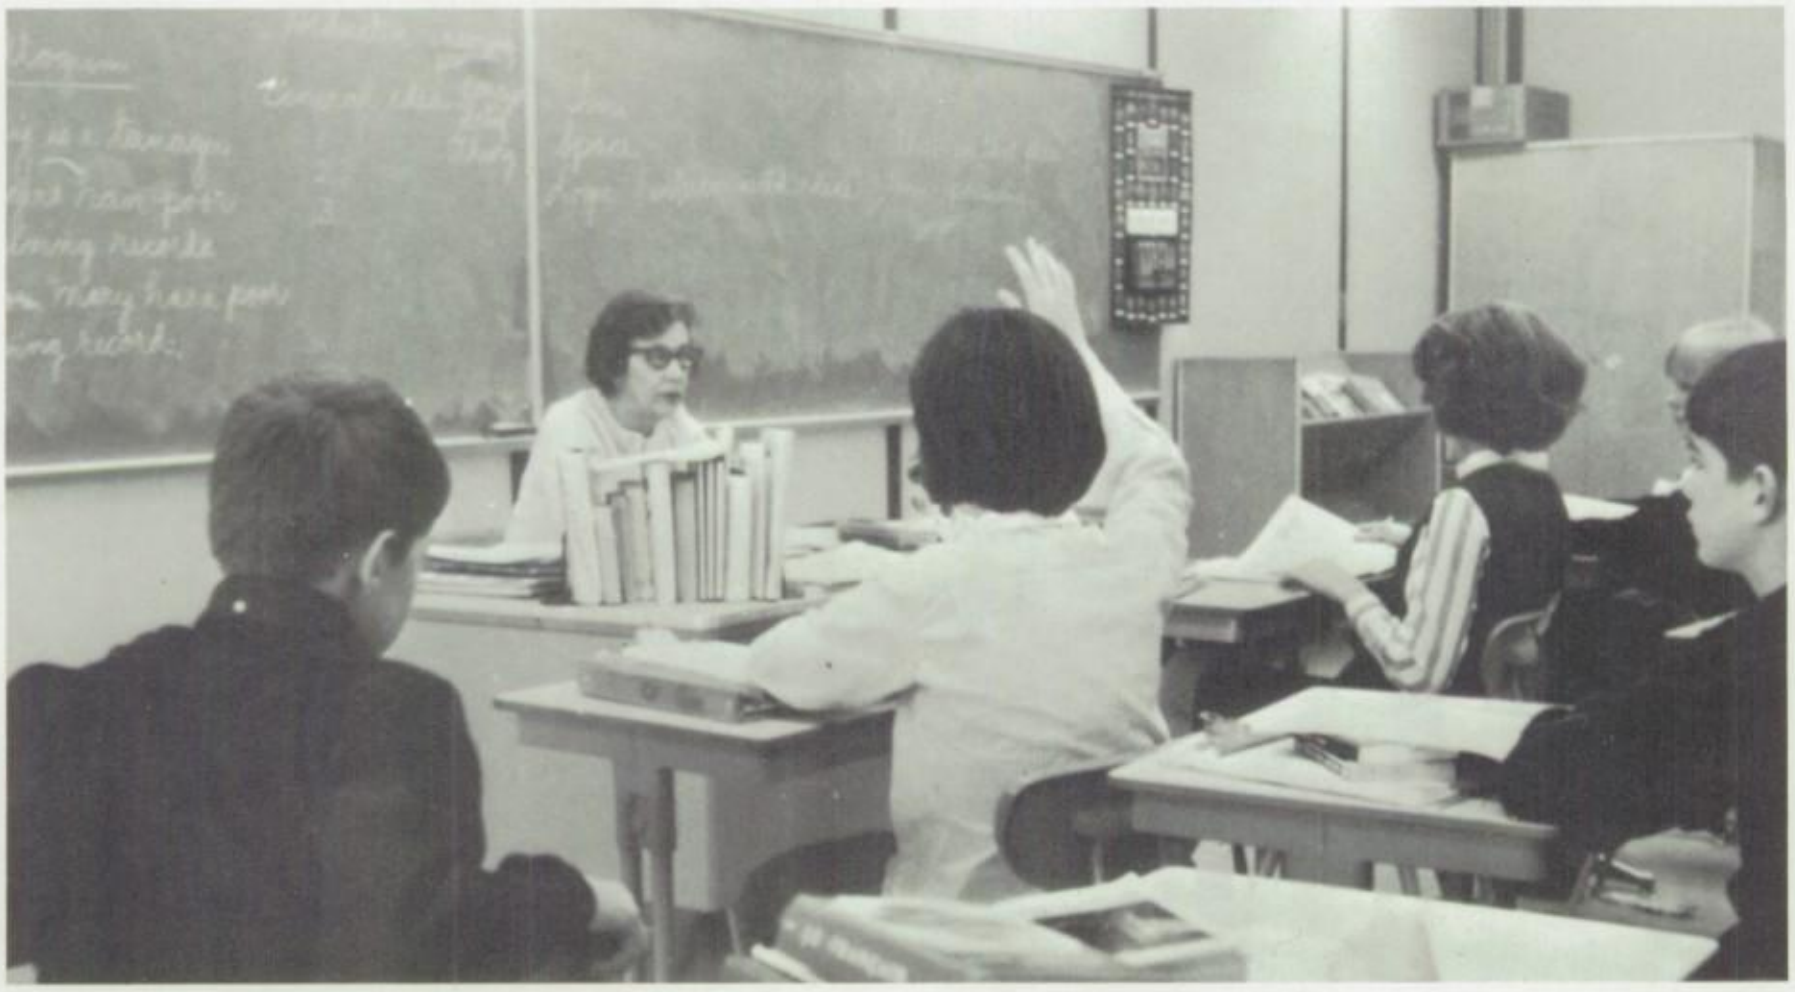
Speech teacher, Miss Diane Edwards instructs Sophomore Rick Schendelman and Junior Dennis Hart on a demonstration speech.

"Come on and say it," comments Senior Bob Jacoby to D. J. Drake, senior, in a skit for Speech II.

English on Motovational



Mr. Daniel Cahill favors an unusual position as he reads to a literature class.



Freshmen students face the new ideas and ideals course which stressed a new approach to English in Mrs. Virginia Travis' class.

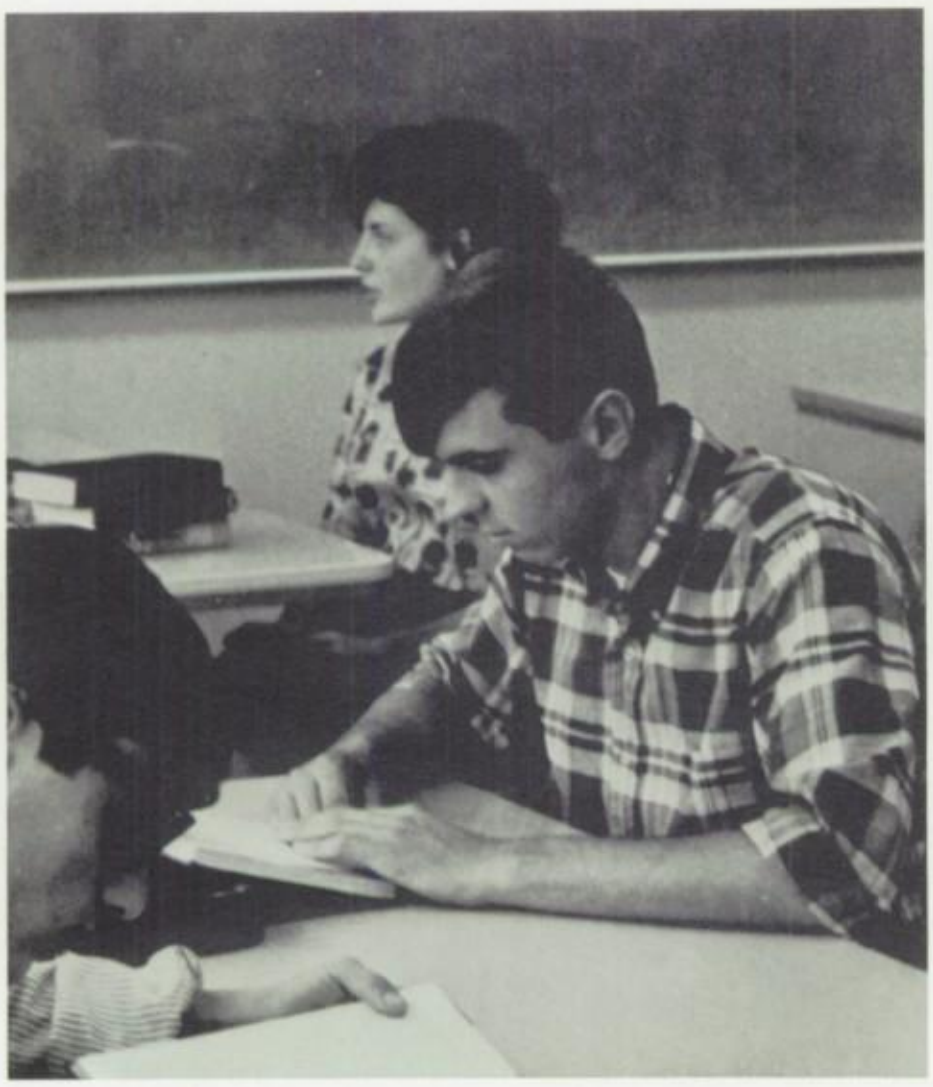
Department Depends Creativity

For the second year Okemos High School is using an unleveled English program. Instead of the usual 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grade English classes, students are given a chance to "develop their individual personalities to the fullest extent" by offering a wide variety of courses.

The department strives to "instill a desire within the student to use the English language correctly, fluently and effectively in both oral and written communication."

Twenty course selections are offered ranging from American Literature to classes of individual projects where students may gear their own course program to satisfy individual needs.

Mrs. Betty Anderson, English instructor, answers the questions of Freshman Kip McGilliard.



Working under his own study program is Senior Rick Noblet in an individual projects course.

Art editor, Jim Westwood, senior finishes a stencil by adding headlines.

In professional journalistic style, staff members of the Tomahawk and Drumbeat work together to further the advancement of student publications.

The Tomahawk staff under the leadership of Karin Brown and Jacquie Caul, co-editors, work writing and typing copy, laying out spreads, and proofing pages in hopes of developing a yearbook with an accurate picture of Okemos High School in 1966.

Student newspaper editor, Peter Georgiady, works with Drumbeat advisor, Miss Marcia Boznango, and staff members as they put together a eight-page paper weekly. They work throughout the year to develop the skill to win an award of "excellence" for the Drumbeat and their individual entries in a contest sponsored by the State Journal.

Press Attains Professionalism in '66

Editor Peter Georgiady, senior, leads the class with experienced journalistic knowledge.

Senior Marc Pruim and Junior Margaret Homeyer correlate the paper for a Wednesday deadline.

Karin Brown and Crs Caldewey, business manager, discuss the yearbook cover with Ed McMeans, yearbook representative.

Language, Department Is Spanish, Et Al

A sign on the door of Mrs. Betty Goldstein's room welcomes French students.

Using tapes, records, conversation, film strips and text books, students grasp for an understanding of foreign languages.

Okemos High School offers students courses in French I, II, III and IV; Spanish I, II and III; and Latin I and II.

During a leave of absence, Madame Etteni Dupuis substituted for Mrs. Betty Goldstein. A native of France, Madame Dupuis was able to give students first hand knowledge of French and the customs of the French people.

Students get an opportunity to hear foreign languages first hand in the language laboratory.

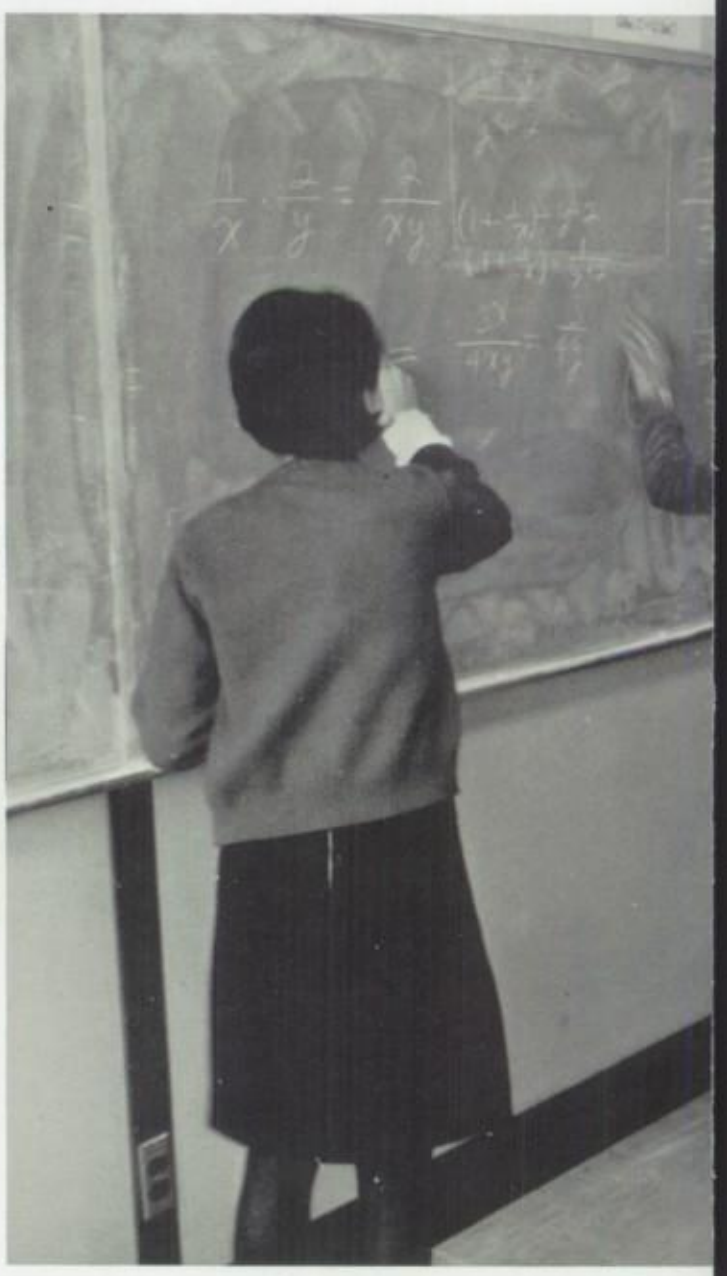
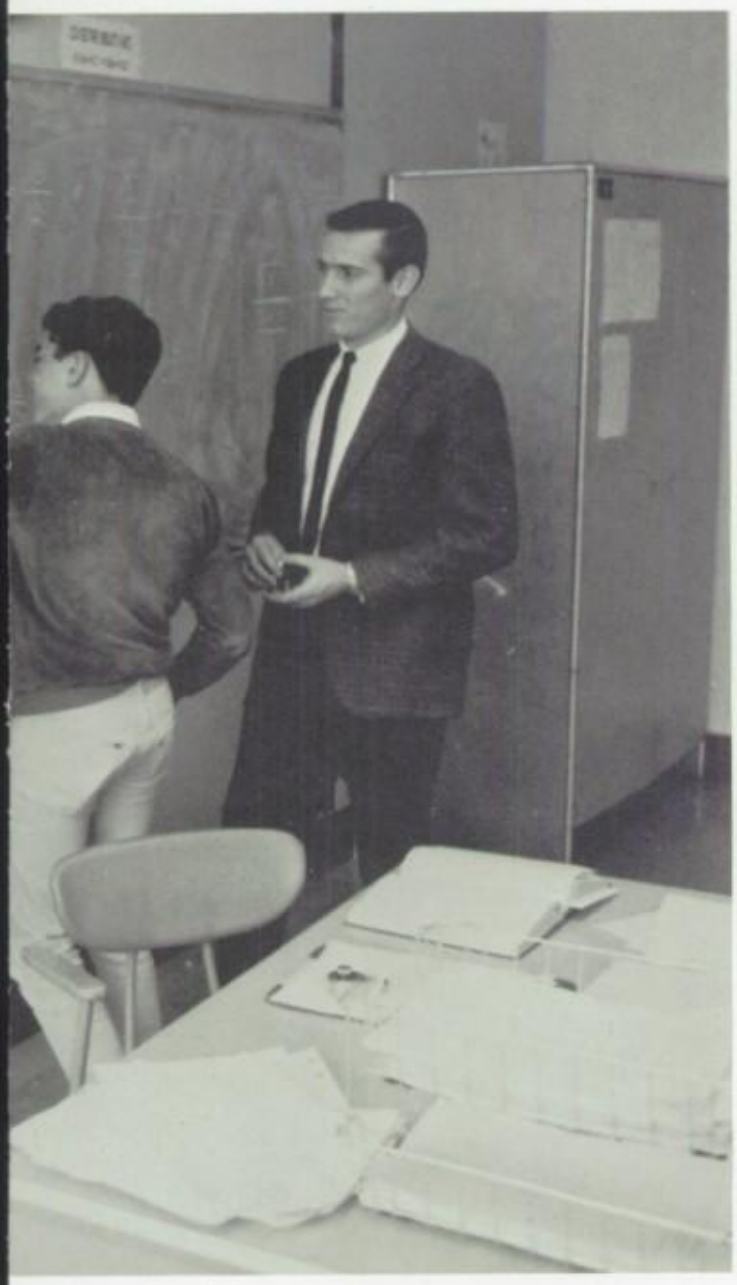
Helping Junior Dennis Hart understand this aspect of geometry is Mrs. Helen Breckenfeld.



Math Progresses in '66

Students help each other build a better understanding of mathematics.



Handing his chalk over to Freshman Tom White, Mr. Robert Porritt watches as his algebra students equalize equations.

Okemos High School math teachers strive to help students understand what is meant by logical thinking and teach practical application to the development of the mathematical system.

Math is not required at OHS but the department offers many opportunities for college bound students.

Students may choose from courses of general math, Algebra I, geometry, Algebra II and Algebra III. Semester courses are also offered in trigonometry and solid geometry.

Space Age Increases Scientific Interest

Mr. Joseph Walbridge teaches students to balance difficult chemistry equations.

Biology instructor, Mr. Vernon Cobb, illustrates the use of a microscope to Sophomore Phyllis Copping.

Improved medical science and the space age have generated an ever growing interest in the field of science. To meet this challenge, the Okemos High School Science Department provides a broad program for students.

Science courses at OHS begin in the sophomore year with biology class taught by Mr. John Bjorkquist or Mr. Vernon Cobb. Mr. Joseph Walbridge carries on the scientific training to juniors with classes in phases of organic and inorganic chemistry. Physics is taught to interested seniors by Mr. Earl Zetterholm. Classes in physical science are taught by Mr. Roland Cook.

Preparing for his next chemistry experiment is Junior Rob Copland.

Seniors John Kehrl, Tom Burke and Jim Elder experiment in the complicated world of physics as Junior Bob Miller offers advice.

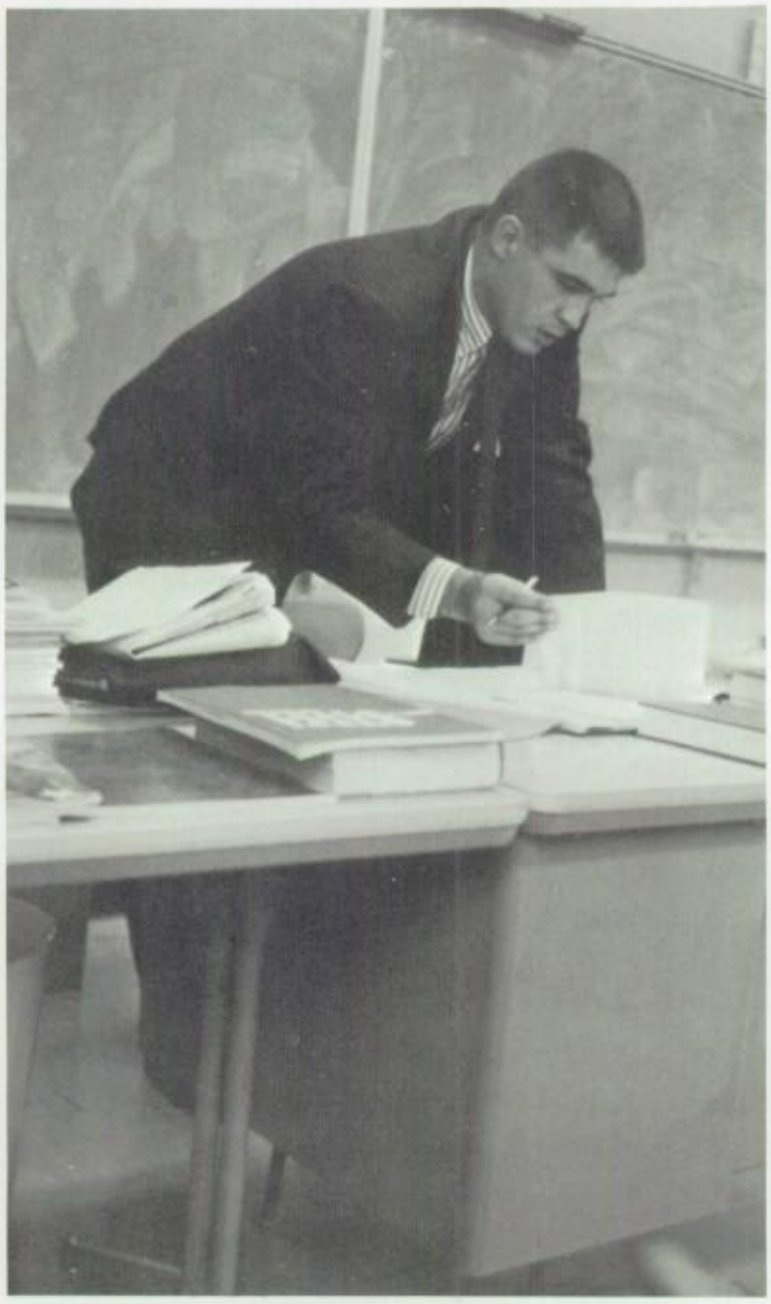
Looking into the plant side of biology is Debbie Freiberg, sophomore.

Social Studies Broadens of the World

Today's world does not confine youth to his school or community. Progress has made the world smaller but, has also expanded it in population, in problems and in achievements.

Nuclear energy has given man the power to destroy entire continents in his struggle for social, economic and political freedom, making the study of civics more important than ever before.

Sociology, world history, American History and government and economics are offered to all Okemos High School students.



Mr. Dave Jones, government teacher, lectures to students.

Senior Roxanna Rowden studies for an upcoming economics examination.

Our View

Sociology teacher, Mr. Ronald Westrate explains grades to Freshmen Steve Shirley and Jill Hargrave.

Mr. Robert Baker, world history teacher, notes progress of map making project to class.

As part of the co-op program John Patterson, Sophomore, turns wheels at Paty's Auto Parts.

Getting a taste of a possible career under paid employment conditions, is the experience extended to students by the Co-operative Training Program under the supervision of Mr. John Zahner. Through this program, incentive to learn is inspired not only in the classroom but also on the job.

In business classes students also get a view of practical skills. Classes in typing, shorthand, and accounting prepare students for a progressive business world.

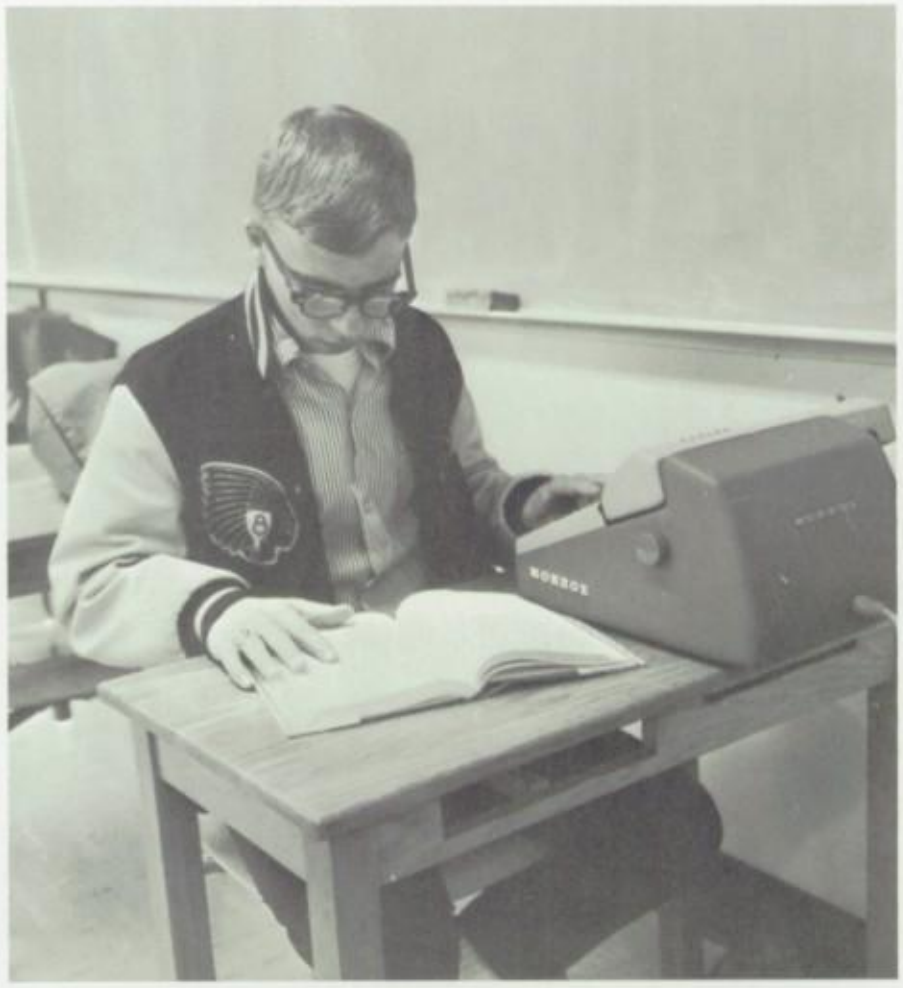
Co-op Students Gain Practical Skills

Mrs. Marilyn Bowker, business instructor, helps students understand the principles of accounting.



Junior Duane Dorn adds knowledge of the adding machine to his knowledge of other business skills.

Mike Stout, Bob Storrer and Lauren Eicher enjoy feeding and caring for the rabbits.

Mr. Roland Cook, agriculture instructor, helps Jim Abbott hold sheep as Roger Dean gets hay for it.

Boys Trained in Agricultural Methods and Principles

The word agriculture means "taking care of the fields" —in other words, what we used to think of as farming. But Okemos High School's Agricultural Department proves that it is more than that. It is the entire work and science of producing crops, utilizing fertilizers, studying landscaping, using and maintaining farm machinery.

A four-year course in agriculture offers everything from very basic farming methods to advanced farm management.

Agriculture is as much of a science as engineering, medicine or any other scientific field to which men and women turn for their life's work. With agricultural background from OHS boys are well equipped for agricultural colleges and universities where they will learn even more methods for making farming better and more mechanized in the future.

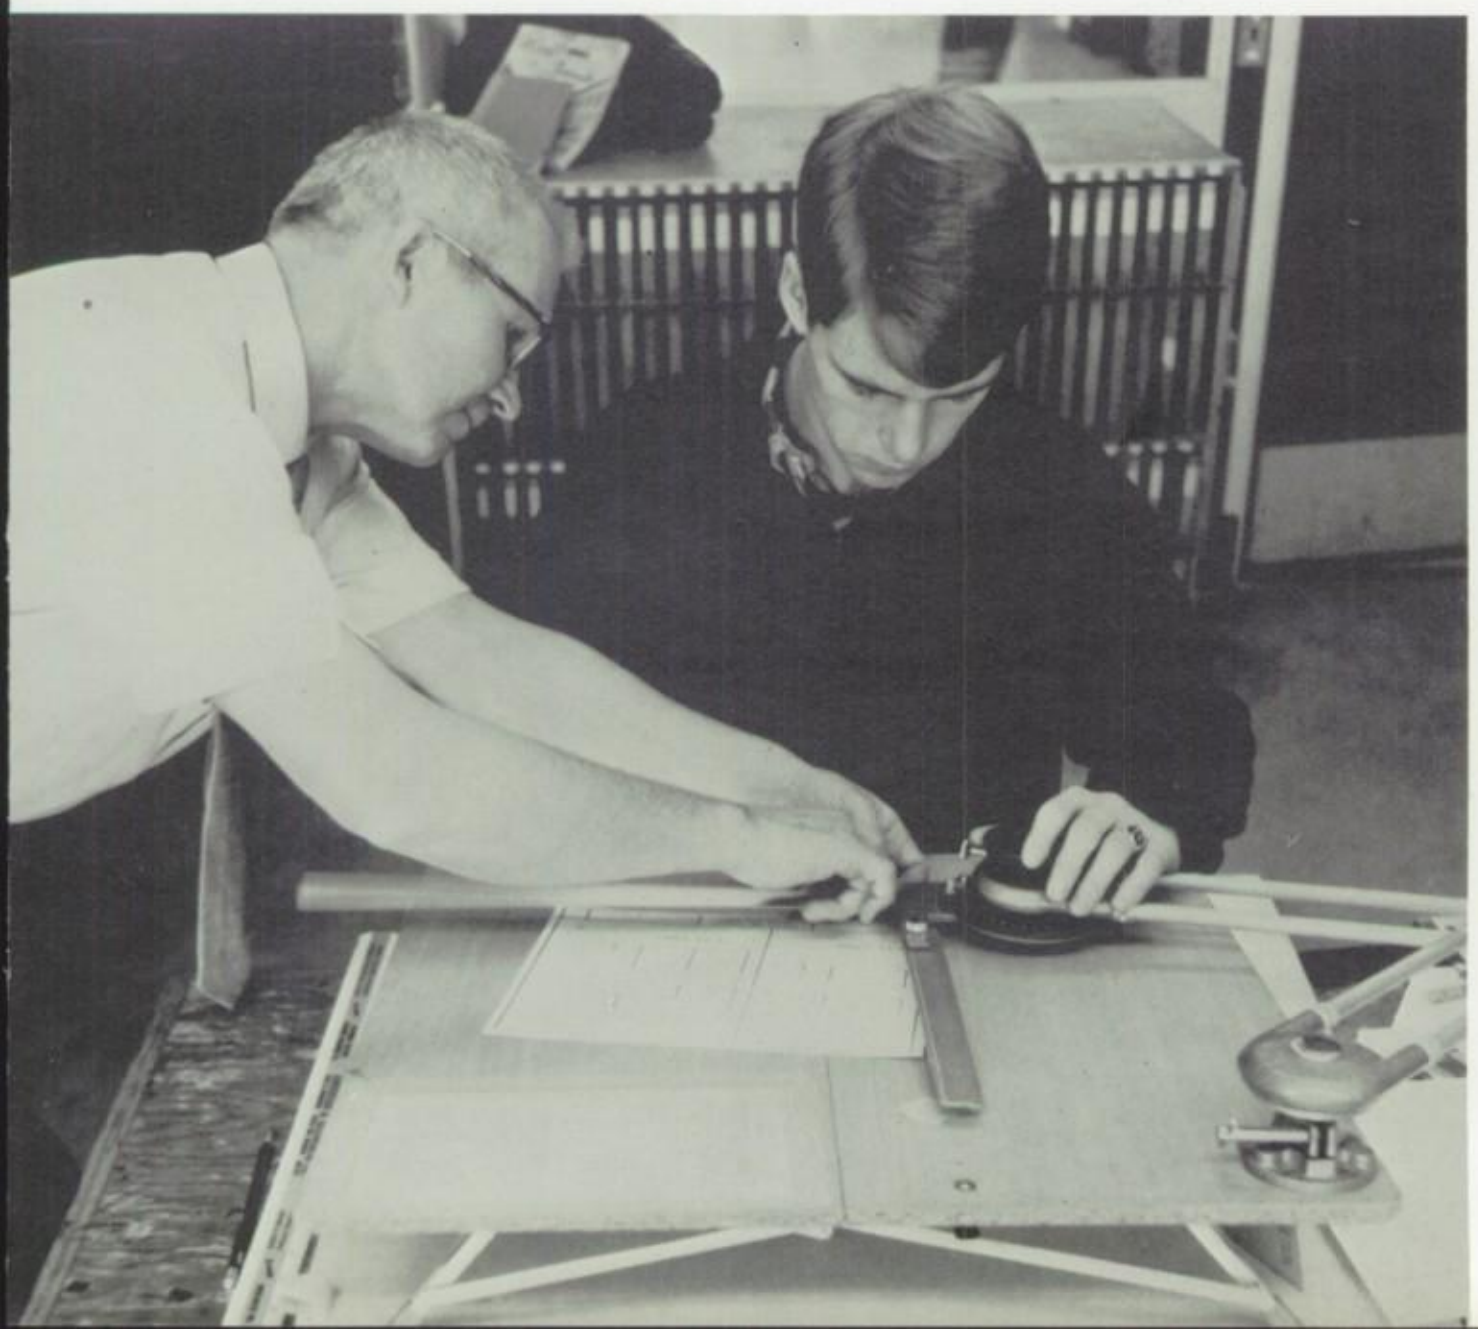
Industrial Arts Teaches Accuracy

A well equipped shop provides for an extensive industrial arts program for interested students. This program is intended to acquaint students with industry and its relationship to society and the individual.

Classes offered include a general shop course, woodworking, general metals, Drafting I and Drafting II.

Industrial arts emphasis on doing work safely and accurately may be among the most important values which the student will achieve from his work.



Instructing Junior Bill McGlone in the art of drafting is Mr. Edward Kapella, I.A. instructor.

Improvement Stressed

Mrs. Jacqueline Babcock instructs Junior Kathy Hogle on sewing techniques.

Experience and improvement are two of the many assets gained by the home and family living class and the home economics classes.

Home economics teaches girls how to take care of homes and the families that go with them.

A course designed for Seniors, home and family living class is centered around the family unit and its management.

The Okemos High School home economics department offers students three years of home economics and one year of home and family living.

Working on home economics projects are Freshmen Sue Anderson, Debbie Rogers, Mary Jo Christinsen and Bev Boyd.

Art Classes Stress Creativity

Through ink drawing, water painting, oil paintings, silk screening, paper molding and other areas of art, Mrs. Helen Davis and Miss Carol Lipton, art instructors, hope to bring out creative impulses in artists of the future.

In class students are taught the fundamental processes of art and then proceed with creative production.

Mrs. Helen Davis, art teacher, looks at texture pictures.

Interest is a key to learning, and books are a key to interest. The library stresses individuality in its wide selection of books, periodicals and study aids. Mrs. Miriam Winters, librarian, does her utmost to maintain and increase the supply of library materials including audio visual aids, and the vertical file.

A good reading atmosphere helps Junior Dave Scott in his pursuit of scholarly achievement.

Junior Dave Peets, looks through the stacks of pocket books for reading material.

Physical Fitness Brings Mental Soundness

Physical fitness is the development of the body physically, in stamina, strength, agility, coordination and muscle tone.

In the Okemos High School physical education department a wide variety of physical activities are taught, rules are learned and physical fitness is developed.

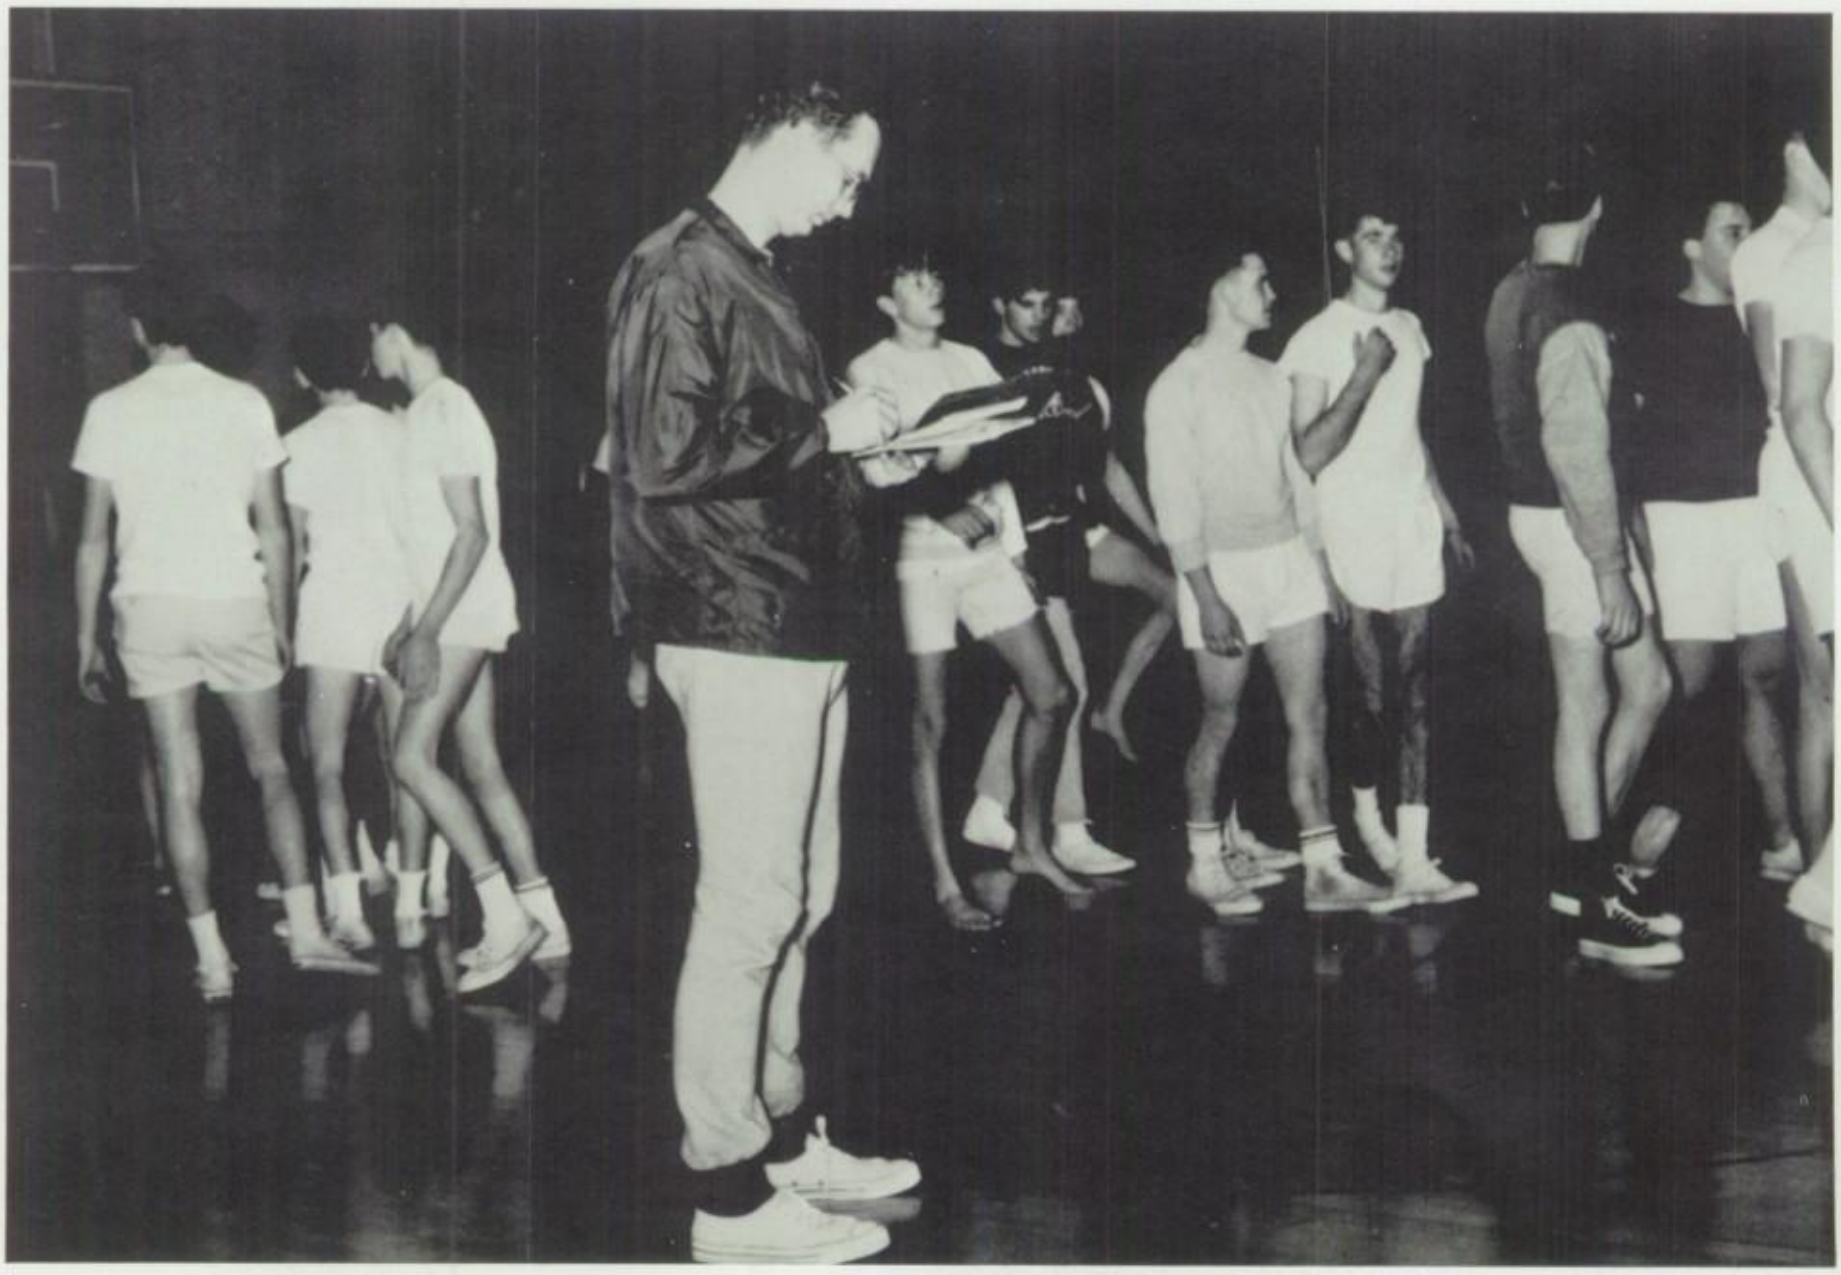
Girls enjoy field hockey, speedball, volleyball, gymnastics, basketball, softball and track. Mrs. Catherine Tank and Mrs. Grace Fulkerson, new this year, instruct the girls' classes.

Soccer, speedball, cross country, football, volleyball, basketball, wrestling and gymnastics are offered to boys physical education classes.

Mr. Robert Baker, Mr. Kenneth May and Mr. Collin Cameron, also new this year, instruct the boys.

Two years of physical education are required for graduation.

Mr. Kenneth May watches and grades boys in his class as they work on basketball drills.



Steady hands make steady points.

Boys soon learn that exercises are a necessary part of physical fitness.

Team cooperation is taught through team sports.

. . . An Expression of the Body

Keeping the body physically fit is as important as keeping the mind mentally stimulated.

We yell for our teams in an atmosphere of electric excitement. Our feet stomp, huge and heavy, our voices sound shrill and rasping. We are loud, and boisterous, and completely unbearable.

Everyone becomes familiar with the strange sensation of fear, the sudden fear—most common at a crucial point of a game. The players learn to act in a crisis. Their bodies express the challenge of physical emotion.

Inexperience Hinders Varsity Team

The Chieftains, coached by Mr. David Jones, and assistant coaches Kenneth May and David Schuele, drilled 35 boys into 35 men and a football team that responded by beating the two arch-rivals; Mason and Haslett. The Chief's record of 2-6-1 is very descriptive of what the team might have done if they had had a few breaks. Even though Gabriels, ranked tenth in the state, won 28-13, the Chiefs succeeded in scoring more points against them than the rest of the teams collectively scored against Gabriels.

Outstanding players included Seniors D. J. Drake and Kurt Hoysradt who were given an honorable mention on the All-League team. Junior Jay Breslin was chosen to the second team All-League on leadership in scoring and ground gaining.

Co-Captains of the Chieftain team were D. J. Drake and Rick Noblest, seniors.

Experience for J.V.

The Okemos Junior Varsity, led by the passing of Freshman quarterback Marc Neifert and the running of sophomores Larry Zweering and Bob Scott, sailed to an undisputed first place in the league and a perfect record of 7-0.

Coach Bob Porritt, mathematics teacher in his first year of teaching at Okemos, told the student assembly, 'I can't point out any one special player as being better than any other, because this year it was the team that went undefeated."

The Junior Varsity will have 32 players on the varsity squad next year and this could prove to be one of the best teams in Okemos football for quite a while.

Outstanding defensive players for the team were sophomores Tom Guthrie, Dennis Dyke and Brian Clifford. To show what a great defensive club this was, they were only scored on four times during the whole season. Offensively, the team scored 133 points for an average of 19.1 points per game compared to the 3.6 points scored by opponents.

Equipment stands ready for waiting and anxious J.V. players.

"If we're going to win we have to get out in front and stay there," said Coach Bjorkquist. And that is just what the harriers did.

Paced by Junior Tom Yunck, the Okemos cross country team had their best season ever, posting a 10-1 dual meet record and bringing home four trophies.

After winning the Napoleon Invitational, the Albion Invitational and the Capital Circuit championship, the harhiers placed first in their regional run and fourth in the state final meet.

Other varsity team members who ran consistently well through the season were Seniors Dave Johnson, Mike Hogle and captain Pete Georgiady, Juniors Chuck White, Dave Peets and Warren Sonnenberg and sophomore Charles Weaver.

For eight senior boys, the Portland—Okemos basketball game was their last. Of a season which may have been somewhat of a dissappointment, the 17 players held a record of eight wins against eight losses. Their biggest setback was in the loss of Doug Rittenger, one of the top centers in the league in his junior year. Doug suffered a knee injury during football season.

A top highlight of the season came as the chiefs downed a very talented O'Rafferty team, 56-53.

"Our team had a lot of desire and hustle. In fact we hustled so much, that sometimes we hustled ourselves into mistakes. Because of this, we were erratic," Coach Bob Baker said.

Dick Vary, senior, a forward on the WITL All Star Team, paced the team in scoring, with the help of Senior D. J. Drake and Junior Jay Breslin.

This year Okemos hosted the district playoff. Teams in the districts were Gabriell, O'Rafferty, Waverly and Portland.

The Okemos Junior Varsity Basketball team, under Coach Doug Richey, ended a very successful season with a 13-3 record. Okemos lost to Gabriels, O'Rafferty and Jackson St. Johns and tied for the Capitol Circuit Championship with each school, holding a 12-2 circuit record.

In his first year of coaching at Okemos, Mr. Robert Porritt led the freshman team to a second place tie with Gabriels behind league champion O'Rafferty. Okemos ended with a 9-2 record.

Winning records for both of these teams indicate that next year Okemos will once again prove tough to the opposition.

Matmen Win Second State Title

The wrestling team enjoyed another successful season sporting a 10-1-1 record for dual matches and finishing the season in grand style taking first place in the Capitol Circuit Tournament, Regional Tournament and winning the State Tournament for the second year.

Pat Karslake went undefeated all year and won his third consecutive state championship in the 180 pound class. Dave martin lost once early in the season but won all his other matches as he won the 112 pound state title.

Pete Willingham was a state runner-up at 127 while team mate Mike Durocher was fourth at 165.

In the drive for the regional crown Dan Cope, 154; Doug Willingham, 138; Jeff Mikles, 120; Scott McGilliard, 103; Dan Curtis, 133 and heavyweight John Lorencen contributed with valuable places.

Tennis and Baseball Keep Small Squads

The tennis team spent most of the year building up a stronger team for next season and helping younger team members obtain more experience.

Losing most of their lettermen, the racketers played mostly juniors and sophomores during the dual match season.

The regular season closed with the regional and state meets in Flint.

The baseball team was also building as last year's reserves made their way up to the varsity ranks.

Winning the capitol Circuit co-championship last season gave the Chiefs a berth in the Capitol City Diamond Classic staged in the first week of June.

Coach David Shuele saw his first year as varsity leader after coaching the reserves last year.

With five of six starters back this year Coach Robert Baker's golf team boasted a full scorecard of experienced golfers.

About 30 golfers were led by the low-shooting trio ot D. J. Drake, Dave Johnson and Bill Conley through the low dual match season and into the regional meet in Brighton.

Coach Baker, who hasn't had a losing season in his 11 years with the team, continued to train the golfers and produce some of the best amateur high school players in the state.

Larry Zweering, Dave Scott, Rob Hill and Tom Geahan backed the six-man varsity team throughout the season and will be ready to take the vacancies left by graduates next season.

The track squad saw a much improved season as nine lettermen returned for competition.

Long distances were Okemos' speciality as Tom Yunck, Chuck White, Charlie Weaver and Warren Sonnenberg were constantly challenged.

The sprinters were led by Bob Miller, Larry Wheeler and Jim Oade, Hurdlers included Pat Daily, Jack Brinker and Jay Breslin.

Middle distance and relay runners Don Ambrose, Jack Nimphie, Dan Curtis and Pete Georgiady ran in many different events and relays.

The team strength was rounded out with Mike Durocher and Pat Daily high jumping, Mike Pollard shotputting, Don Ambrose long jumping and D. J. Drake pole vaulting.

Coach David Jones coached both track and field events for the second year.

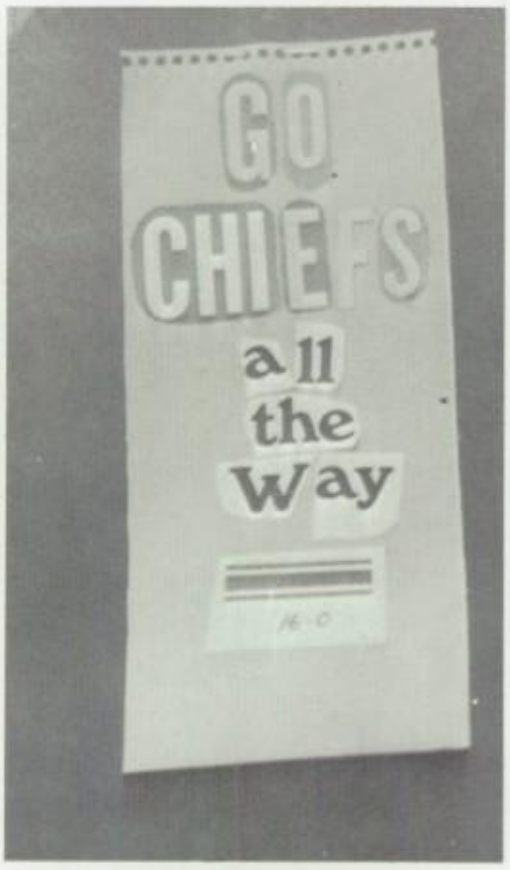
Cheerleaders Direct Student Body



Pep signs boosts spirits among Okemos High School students.

Varsity cheerleaders Gina Crandell, Sheila Corkrey, Mary San Clemente, Kathy Magee and Captain Marilyn Cheney work to improve school spirit.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders Laura Cheney, Marilyn Martin, Barbara Oxender, Captain Diane Hull, Sylvia Stevens and Maureen Baker lead junior varsity teams on to victory.

Spirit and pep, a major ingredient in any team's march to victory, is produced by the spark of the varsity and reserve cheerleaders.

To perfect their performance this year members of the squads attended Camp All American in Hartland, Michigan. Varsity cheerleaders received a second place team trophy and the reserve squad took home a third place trophy.

Sylvia Stevens, freshman reserve cheerleader, won a first place individual award at her camp session.

During Pep Rallies

Varsity Cheerleader, Nancy Marmon leads student body at an outdoor pep rally.

Principal Warren Dolsen speaks to students at all-school pep rally.

Leading the student body in the fight song are Sophomores Mike Premer and George Lorencen and Senior John Lorencen on the drums.

Activities Spell Fun, Excitement, and Good Times . . .

. . . An Expression of Personality

Homecoming week-end, dances in our cafeteria, plays presented in The Barn Theater, and club events are a few highlights of this year's activities.

Through school activities, students learn to work and live together. A laugh or a cry are common results of learning to become part of a social world. High School is not only an institution of learning but a social benefit as well—a true expression of personality.

Enjoying the thrills of half-time activities are King Jim Westwood and Queen Nancy Marmon.

The traditional parade of floats started the 1965 Homecoming weekend Friday night, October 15. Students jeered and cheered as winners of the competition were announced. Spanish Club took first place, depicting Jason fleecing the Rams.

Highlighting the half-time ceremonies was the arrival of the Homecoming queen and court. Queen Nancy Marmon was serenaded onto the field by Mr. Joseph Walbridge, singing "Here She Comes Miss Okemos."

Jim Westwood, king, escorted Nancy as she and other members of the court were presented to the Homecoming crowd by Principal Warren Dolsen.

Class representatives are filled with excitement as they are presented to spectators. They are Barbara Marmon, freshman; Carolyn Schultz, sophomore; Sheila Corkrey, junior, and Debbie Wood, senior.

Floats, Court, Football Begin Homecoming Activities

Spanish Club takes first place in float competition against a field of seven class and club entries.

Freshman Debbie Hohl proves that float-wrecking can be fun too.

Coronation Highlights Splendor of

Flowing curtains, tall pillars, beautiful gardens and bright stars greeted students as they attended the coronation dance Saturday night in the high school cafeteria.

Kristin Powell, last year's queen, and Bob Graham, king, returned to crown queen Nancy and pass the scepter to Jim. A drum roll and trumpet salute began the coronation ceremonies as Jim, Nancy and the court proceeded to the throne. High backed, wooden carved chairs, fitting to mythical gods and goddesses, emphasized royalty in our king and queen.

Class representatives were Debbie Wood and Marc Pruim, seniors; Sheila Corkrey and Jack Nimphie, juniors; Carolyn Shultz and Jon Patenge, sophomores; and Barbara Marmon and Marc Neifert, freshmen.

The dance ended at 11 p.m. and with it ended Okemos High School's 1965 Homecoming activities. Decorations were taken down rapidly and beautiful Mt. Olympus again became a cafeteria.

Homecoming co-chairmen were Jacquie Caul, senior, and Zandra Zweering, junior.

Enjoying the evening are co-chairman Zandra Zweering and Jacquie Caul.

Members of Bob Sargeant's band get into the swing of things as they play for homecoming dancers.

Under the stars on Mt. Olympus, couples dance through an evening of "Mythical Magic."

Dances Express Social Awareness

Dances symbolize the social aspect of Okemos High School. Informal dances sponsored by clubs and classes give students a chance to socialize outside regular school hours.

Music, mistletoe and the holiday spirit describe the semi-formal Christmas dance, Silver Bells, sponsored by the Sophomore Class. Co-Chairman Hila Weaver and Mary Warner worked closely with the decoration committee to express the magic atmosphere of the Christmas holidays.

The Cafeteria is filled to capacity for the Ski Club dance featuring the live music of the Chancellors.

"The Chancellors", a combined Okemos—East Lansing band, play for many school sponsored dances.

Teen Center Provides After Game Fun for Students

"Some like em big, some like em little," sings Junior Rick Blomstrom.

Led by President Jim Westwood, students worked closely with the adult board of Teen Center to provide entertainment for Okemos Students and their guests.

Open after most home football and basketball games, Teen Center added a new feature this year; live bands. Mr. Joseph Walbridge, faculty advisor, assists the adult board and students in the supervision of Teen Center activities throughout the year.

"A Doll's House": First Serious Play Presented at Okemos

"A Doll's House," one of the best known of Henrick Ibsen's works, was presented by the Okemos Drama Club December 3 and 4 under the direction of Miss Diane Edwards.

Senior Jana Edmondson, as Nora Helmer, did much to make the serious drama, the first of its kind at OHS, the success that it was. Her husband, played by sophomore Crs Caldewey, regarded her as an amusing doll, a plaything. But with the help of her two closest friends, Mrs. Linde and Dr. Rank, played by seniors Jacquie Caul and Bruce Skidmore, she realized what she must do to remain a woman.

Other members of the cast were seniors David Hart, Krogstad; Diane Oberst, Anne; and Wrenn Slocum, the maid. Junior Randy Axline played the porter.

Assisting with production were 30 crew members led by student director, Cheryl Perkins, and technical director, Larry Antrim.

Pondering the dramatic situation is Bruce Skidmore portraying Dr. Rank.

Mrs. Linde, played by Jacquie Caul, meets her best friend's husband, Torvald Helmer, played by Crs Caldewey, as Dr. Rank looks on.

Cast members: Judy Axline, child; Diane Oberst, nurse; Wrenn Slocum, maid; Bruce Skidmore, Dr. Rank; Jana Edmondson, Nora Helmer; Crs. Caldewey, Torvald Helmer; David Hart, Nils Krogstad; Jacquie Caul, Mrs. Linde; and Randy Axline, the porter.

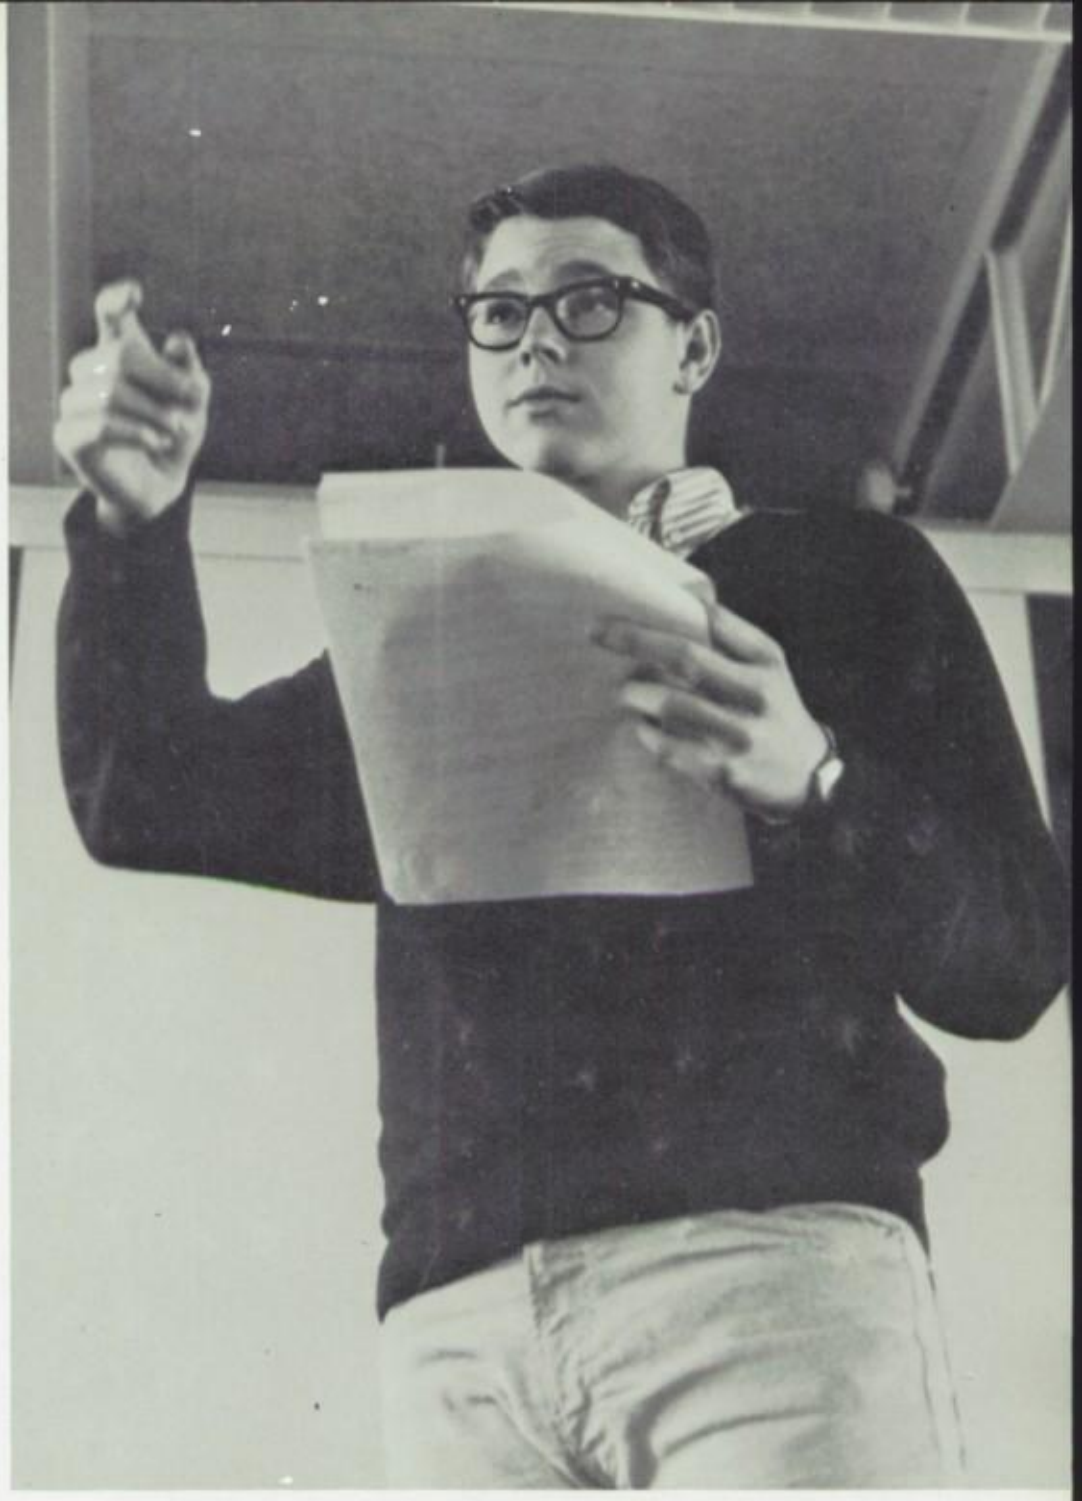
Miss Diane Edwards goes over parts during rehearsal of "Harvey".



Stage Manager Larry Antrim instructs stage crew on proper positioning of props.

The imaginative tale of Elwood P. Dowd, played by Senior Pete Larson, and his Harvey, a six-foot rabbit, was presented under the direction of Miss Diane Edwards, in the Barn Theatre, April 29 and 30.

"Harvey" tells the story of Elwood P. Dowd and his sister Veta's attempts to have him committed to a mental hospital because his imaginary friend Harvey is scaring away Myrtle's suitors.

Other cast members included Myrtle Mae Simmons, Cindy Caul; Veta Louise Simmons, Cheryl Perkins; Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet, Jan Whitmore; Nurse Kelly, Jana Edmondson; Duane Sanderson, Gary Eby; William Chumley, Jill Frank; Judge Gaffney, Bruce Skidmore and E. J. Lofgren, Marsha Anderson.

Student directors were Seniors Karin Brown and Jacquie Gaul.

Achievement Gained Through Music

Director Philip Hillstrom leads band in a musical selection.

"Band, let's start six measures of 'A', at the change of the key. This is just before we go into the last formation." Mr. Philip Hillstrom prepares the marching band for their final half time show. All does not end with the last football game. Just a few instrumental changes and the group is once again hard at work under the title of the Symphonic Band. The band represents the school in parades, Band Day at Michigan State University and in the Winter and Spring Concerts presented to the public.

"Because of the tremendous interest and response to pleas for donations, the Okemos High School band was able to purchase new uniforms this year."

A dedicated interest in the music program on the part of the Music Patrons to a large extent was responsible. Collaborating with the Town Courier, the Music Patrons tabulated returns and collected money from the sale of subscriptions.

Furnishing the publicity and giving the band and orchestra half the cost of each subscription sold, the Town Courier also helped in making a dream of new uniforms a realization for the band.

Senior Gale Harrington models a new band uniform which can be converted to serve as both a marching and concert uniform.

Orchestra Maintains High Rating

"Enough genuine interest is not cultivated in education towards string players and their importance in the field of music," Mr. Philip Hillstrom, orchestra director, said. The Okemos High School music program is trying to place more emphasis in this program. This has been evidenced in the past two years by the Division One rating the orchestra has received in the State Music Festival. Over 80 elementary and junior high school students are presently playing string instruments. It is hoped they will provide a nucleus for a large symphonic orchestra in the future for Okemos High School.

Okemos High School's long-awaited student court came into effect this year with Senior Bob Jacoby, presiding judge.

The court was established as a judiciary branch of the Student-Faculty Association under the supervision of Student Parliament.

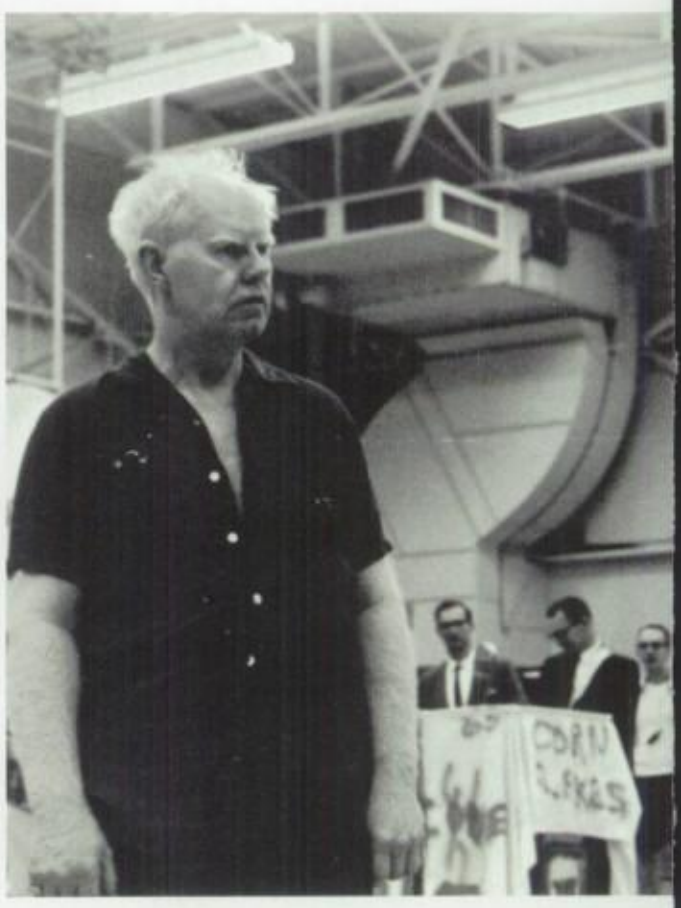
Composed of nine students, the jury decides by a 2/3 majority what the defendant's punishment will be. They decide between the suggested punishment of the principal, class advisor and judge, and the punishment suggested by the defendant.

"The purpose of the court," SP President, D. J. Drake said, "is to give students a more active role in governing themselves and to encourage an awareness and respect for the basic process of law."

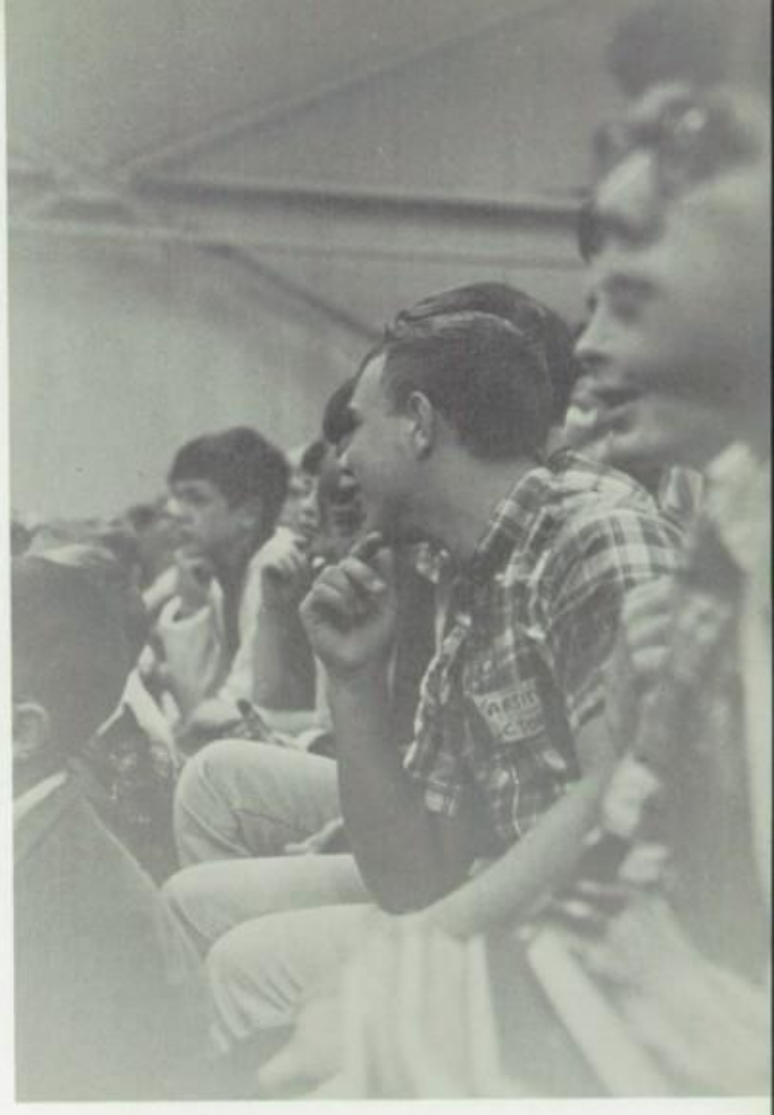
President D. J. Drake serves as the speaker between students and faculty at an all-school assembly.

Assemblies Reflect School Attitudes

Teachers get in the act too as Ken May, math; David Jones, government; Warren Dolsen, principal and Ron Westrate, sociology play the OHS Fight Song.



Re-enacting a scene from the proposed student court, are Mary Willett, Tom Yunck, David Hart, and Joel Ellinwood.



Rapt, engrossed, and captivated (sometimes), OHS students pack those wooden bleachers.

Students and teachers meet and present opinions or express emotion at all-school assemblies.

Assemblies give students the chance to promote or contribute to a cause or broaden their knowledge through learning of another's experiences.

Community Services Day, an annual fund-raising day for the Community Chest, netted over $300 at the kick-off assembly.

Student Court began its first year of operation after being introduced to the student body in the form of a mock trial.

Other assemblies included musical selections, guest speakers, debates and student skits.

"But I'm a Senior!" is the excuse Mr. Earl Zetterholm, math-science teacher, gives to secretary Betty Durst during the annual Community Services Day Assembly.

Feature Varied Activities

In all foreign language clubs there are always officers who orientate ideas and propose activities, but these officers cannot carry out their programs without the willing workers who pull through by showing up at meetings and club-sponsored activities and do the actual work.

Activities of the foreign language clubs include regular meetings, foreign films, dances and banquets. Club members also took an active part in school assemblies and entered floats in homecoming competition.

Planning for future professions, Future Teachers of America, Future Nurses of America, and Business Club arranged meetings to give members first-hand experience in their chosen fields.

Serving as guides for parent-teacher conferences and the annual open house, FTA received a knowledge of the more technical aspects of teaching. To gain an understanding of the different educational systems of the world, FTA hosted a panel of the foreign exchange students.

"Please Help Laurie," was the compassionate plea of FNA members at Christmas time. Sponsoring a drive for baby food and clothing, FNA helped a young girl and her daughter. Delving into several different aspects of nursing, FNA toured Michigan State University's veterinary school and the Ingham County Rehabilitation Center.

Planning for furthering their education, members of the Business Club toured Lansing Community College and Lansing Business University. Discovering other vocations in the business field, Business Club had a Certified Public Accountant speak to them.

Pep Club: Active,

"For the third year in a row, the Class of '67 won the Pep Club-sponsored poster contest," Pep Club President Rudy Hornus announced at an all-school assembly.

Other Pep Club activities included the selling of "Okemos" buttons and booster tags to instill school spirit.

During the school year, students wore "inspiration tags" made by over 40 club members during Tuesday night meetings. Such slogans as, "Baby The Rocks Must Fall" and "Shock The Circuit," were used.

Club officers are Senior, Rudy Hornus, president; and Junior, Gina Crandell, vice-president.

Seniors Claire Bidwell and Sharon Powers cut "inspiration tags."

In competition at Michigan State University's Farmer's Week, the FFA received a sixth place ribbon and prize money for their plaque urging farmers to "Turn Northern Grass Into Feeder Calves."

Preparing for the hard work and many responsibilities of running a household was the main objective of the Future Homemakers of America. Raising over $100 through school-wide candy sales, the club was able to have two theater trips. A progressive supper was also held to learn the proper way to serve different courses of a dinner.

Appalachian Trip Emphasizes Services of OHS Honor Society

Membership in the National Honor Society is based on scholarship, leadership, service and character.

This year, guided by President Mary Willett, the Okemos chapter has given real meaning to these qualifications.

Work projects, organized throughout the year, gave members the opportunity to serve others.

Climaxing the work projects, 25 society members spent spring vacation at a 600-acre work farm and clinic in the Appalachian hills of Kentucky where they had an opportunity to gain an understanding of and give help to people of the area.

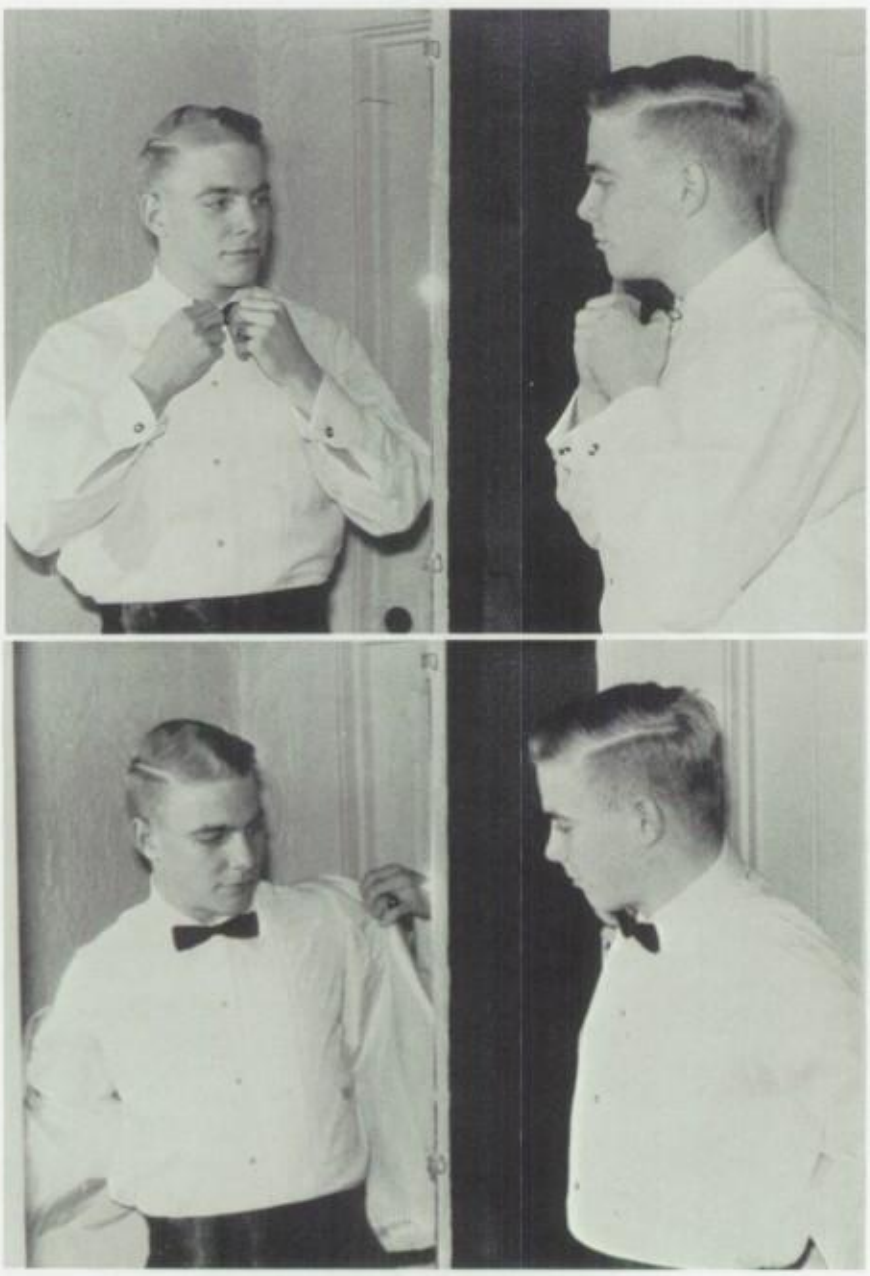
Prom Highlights Year's Activities



Juniors and seniors, throughout the year, held high expectations of the 1966 prom.

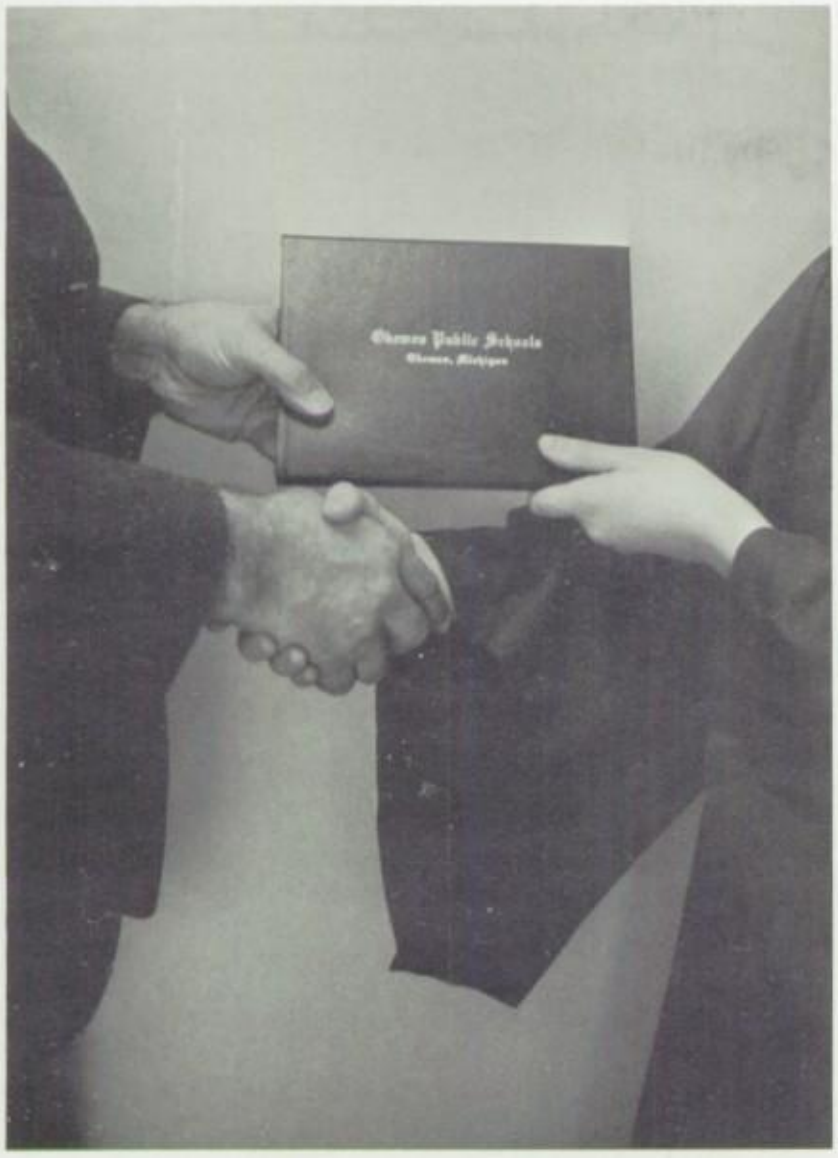
Co-chairmaned by Juniors David Peets and Bob Miller, the evening was one that will be remembered long after graduation.

In formals and dinner jackets couples danced under elegant decorations at the Jack Tar Hotel.

The "Intruders" provided music as guests danced slowly and romantically or kicked off their shoes to dance exuberantly to the more modern beats.

Senior Bob Miller gets ready for an exciting evening at the 1966 prom.

High Academic and Social Standards Symbolize '66 Graduates



Diploma in hand, the seniors march on.

Graduation is upon the Class of '66 and the future looks bright. Now they are ready to go on to greater heights; a college education, a career, military service, or marriage awaits each of them.

Senior sponsor, Mr. David Jones, led the class in a most successful year. A dinner for their parents, leadership in homecoming activities, the senior banquet and prom highlighted the year.

At graduation they looked around and saw the faces of friends. Somehow they seemed different; older? more mature? Will they ever meet again now that graduation is over and, diploma in hand, they march on?

The tests of high school life are over and the tests of their futures begin. They will always express the knowledge and habits gained during four years at OHS.

In preparation for graduation, Mr. David Jones, class sponsor, measures for caps and gowns.

Cafeteria workers and custodians work together to make students' school days more enjoyable.

An added lunch period helps accommodate an average of 400 students who eat in the cafeteria daily. For the convenience of students, two lunch lines are run—a 40 cent line for average meals and a 50 cent line for larger meals.

The custodians' main work begins after students go home and involves many hours of cleaning and preparing classrooms for the next day.

Eleven Honor Students Help Lead Class of '66

Karen Beck

Marilyn Cheney

To be acknowledged an honor student has always been a distinguished award. It is the acknowledgment for long hours of concentration, determination and study. Each year competition becomes more intense as the need for higher education is recognized. The Class of 1966 may be justly proud of its academic record with the upper third of the class all attaining an average of 3.0 or better.

Averages for the top eleven students range from 3.0 to 3.7. But being a top student is not all work. Actively engaged in extracurricular activities from FHA to cheerleading, they are an asset to our school.

Classes, Books, and Teachers Are Part of Being an Underclassman . . .

. . . They Strive to Express

Sometimes happy, sometimes sad, an underclassman has many moods.

What is an underclassman? Some say he is the lowest form of animal life, others don't bother to say, but most people agree he is a book-carrying, studying, class-attending human deserving of little other recognition.

But Okemos underclassmen do things: they win academic awards, they participate in reserve and varsity athletics, they attend school activities and they make up the bulk of the student body.

Underclassmen express themselves in many ways, including they way they dress.

Discouraged at times, all underclassmen look forward to becoming a senior.

At no time is class rivalry so strong as at homecoming time.

Dear Sue,

Yet, how are you supposed to write with the green ink. Well, I guess I'll have to forget my guesswork and start yakking. I'll give you a picture when I bring them to school and if you know me that might never happen. I guess I'd better get down to brass tacks and start saying something of importance. Well, one of the nicest girls I know and the prettiest, however, don't get a big head and ruin the whole thing - Best of luck in the future and I hope you will find happiness.

Love,
Kate Jameson
"Katrina"

P.S. Don't get to upset at Claire over her ribaldery. We can still hang around together after graduate.

from what I've heard you seem to have had a pretty good year. Don't let exceeded, I know I've left one even more impressive one when you've gone. Keep up the good work and I'll see you in the future.

Scott McGill, JR.

My grandmother told me to tell you to have a pleasant journey, and to keep your feet warm, and to remember to write. Also, she wants to know if you've been eating properly, and if you've been saving your money. She also wants to know if you've been going to church regularly, and if you've been behaving yourself. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough sleep, and if you've been keeping your room clean. She also wants to know if you've been making your bed every morning, and if you've been brushing your teeth after every meal. She also wants to know if you've been washing your hands before every meal, and if you've been saying your prayers every night. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough exercise, and if you've been playing with your friends. She also wants to know if you've been reading your books, and if you've been doing your homework. She also wants to know if you've been helping around the house, and if you've been obeying your parents. She also wants to know if you've been getting along with your brothers and sisters, and if you've been sharing your toys. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough rest, and if you've been eating your vegetables. She also wants to know if you've been taking your vitamins, and if you've been drinking your milk. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough fresh air, and if you've been playing outside. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough sunshine, and if you've been wearing your hat. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough water, and if you've been drinking your juice. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough fruit, and if you've been eating your fruit. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough protein, and if you've been eating your meat. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough carbohydrates, and if you've been eating your bread. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough fat, and if you've been eating your butter. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough sugar, and if you've been eating your candy. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough salt, and if you've been eating your pretzels. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough water, and if you've been drinking your soda. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough exercise, and if you've been playing your games. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough rest, and if you've been sleeping your hours. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough love, and if you've been giving your hugs and kisses. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough attention, and if you've been paying your dues. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough respect, and if you've been showing your manners. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough discipline, and if you've been following your rules. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough freedom, and if you've been using your judgment. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough responsibility, and if you've been taking your chores. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough independence, and if you've been making your own decisions. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough self-esteem, and if you've been feeling good about yourself. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough confidence, and if you've been believing in yourself. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough encouragement, and if you've been cheering your friends. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough support, and if you've been helping your family. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough guidance, and if you've been following your heart. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough wisdom, and if you've been using your head. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough knowledge, and if you've been learning your lessons. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough inspiration, and if you've been reaching your goals. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough motivation, and if you've been working hard. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough success, and if you've been achieving your dreams. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough happiness, and if you've been living your life to the fullest. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough love, and if you've been sharing your heart. She also wants to know if you've been getting enough hugs and kisses, and if you've been giving them to me. Sue
Well here goes
I can think of alot of things we have done together but I am afraid I can't write them down. Thanks for last summer especially and for being Sue. your a real sweet kid and its been fun being with you for 4 long years.

Sue,
THX for the note you wrote for me. It never could have gotten away with it without
you. Have fun this summer and don't get too drunk. Don't do anything I wouldn't enjoy.
Good luck Jane

Jon Chiesa

P.S. It'l going to be dead next year without you.

Sue
Well were out in 3½ days. Dear, lovable, sweet, beautiful,
Have fun this real summer. gorgeous little Susie,
You are a real sweet girl What a NUT you are!
and good luck in the years I really can't think of
to come. any other girl around that's more fun to have around than I mean you.
Hey Girl, When are you going to get your driver's license? You know your a big girl now. Don't forget the good times all of us had last summer, last year and most of all this year. The 8 the Packard, the pits, Roxies party, and other very enjoyable times. I sure hope to see you this summer and if Jan comes up we'll have to have a big party. Well, the best of luck in college, and have a very enjoyable summer. yours, King of Packard.
alfalfa.

Sue,
Lets see, To Sue the Swimmer, to Sue the Swinger, to Sue the ??. Love ya anyway -
We had lots a fun last summer & this year & lets keep it up this summer.
O.K.?, O.K. We'll get together with Freddy, & Dave, & Dick & Herman & Darby & Bob & Marsha & Claire & Pete &
Jim & Sharon & Jay & Mike & who knows who else & have a big blast

Sue, you are one of the guys the most fun to be with this year!
Laugh, I noticed that my hair's getting short, Seeing you
Bob

Sue,
The ole Bear just gave us another ass-ignment. We sure is a ---- Well this is our next to last full day in here so we have something to be glad for. Next year we'll be on campus and many new experiences. Best of luck and do look me up when we get to State.

Pete Larson

Sue—
To the craziest girl at O.H.S. The best of Luck in College. I know you'll find it Interesting and fun.

Pete Wallinder

P.S. The only reason that I am writing a P.S. is that it takes up a lot of space that could have been used for more important purposes, furthermore: See if you can stay out of trouble and have fun at the same time.

Knowing you was an unexpected pleasure but the pleasure was all yours.

P.P.S.
Wine & Dine '69.

P.W.

Sue,
Remember all the good times we had in Packard with Hegerty the gang can get together and have alot of fun—Good luck in the future. Stay out of trouble and don't go swimming when it's only 60 degrees out, Ole! See you this summer at M.S.U. next fall.

Dave Moray

Dear Sue,
Remember our talent show at the Crimped Chili, Woody and the bathroom. Hour come you laugh so much?

Hi: RANDY

The Crimped Chili, Woody and the bathroom. Hour come you laugh so much?

Hi: RANDY

Sue,
We've had a long and good friendship—May the hard always be yours and always Keep you smiling. Keep your self safe and have a wonderful future with bright.

P.S. Remember those crazy Good Skewl Years?

Kelberg.

I wanna cry if we (our huge gang) doesn't get together. It's been a riot. Remember TP at Claire's. Riot! Roni's party was loads of fun especially with the gang. What would we do without them? My party, well, let me tell you. I'll NEVER forget it, ever in my whole life. Susie you're one heck of a riot. I luv, you for it. You're what keeps this world going. Yah. man. That letter I'm sending, hope it does SOME good. You have a cool one! Gilly HAYseed!

Yah.

Susie, don't forget me this summer. Guess I'm getting kinda scared that people will forget. That's my problem. We gotta have more Packard rides, Pontiac rides, ORTA meetings. Man, what would I have done without you this year.

OH HEY don't forget the fast service at Uncle John's. The guys probably will never forgive me, but I'm not really worried. The food was pretty good.

Nother thing I'll never forget is Prom. what a night. Guess you know that you and Gil kept the group going. Your guy really matches you. You're both insane, fun, cute, lovable, humorous, fun, goofy, adorable, good friends & everyone. Aside from my poor cut and sunburn and you?) it was a wonderfully great day. Susie, I need a friend and your always there. I just can't believe it. We'll have to try that buddy stuff Fri? Don't worry 'bout Hayseed, he'll be seeing you. Not just stopping by, but going out on weekends. You got a personality no one can resist, not even girls. Funny, how we get along. I always figured it'd never work out. So glad that it did.

Wish I could've been to your B'day party, Nita's party, etc. It was fun though. Some time, I'll letcha see my nightie & bikini pants. Whew do I get jaip name on those Bikini pants. Well, here comes the end of our senior year and the stupid page. Hope it will never be the end of our friendship. Your ever lovin' pal, Cheri

Years of Expression Behind Us; Tomahawk to Remind Us

To Our Readers,

Through the Tomahawk we have attempted to set forth a complete and accurate record of the 1965-66 school year.

For their continued assistance, time, effort and ideas, we would like to thank Mr. Daniel Cahill, advisor; Peter Georgiady, photographer, and Crs Caldewey, advertising and art manager.

We also wish to thank members of the school board, Mr. Warren Dolsen, principal; Mrs. Helen Jones, secretary, and the high school office staff for their cooperation.

For tolerating our disruption of class, we want to thank the faculty and student body and for their patronage we thank our advertisers.

We hope that an expression of our high school years will be respectfully and pleasantly preserved in this edition.

Sincerely,

Jacqueline Caul

Good Luck to the Class of '66

From the
Tomahawk Editors

Dear Suzie,

You've put up alot with me - my never ending chatterboxness and all my moods about nothing! You've been the bestest mud and friend a guy (like me) has ever had.

We've done a bunch together. Remember Bidwell's surprise birthday party (and ya' thought noone like ya')? We went to see the Sound of Music and I made my "big-splash" at Macs. afterwards? Then there was the Surprise party for Glenna. that Velour - of which you own the controlling interest.

Remember Katie party — when we T.P.ed Walbridges house? We did a good job too. Katie's chocolate candy.

Then there was Sheri's party for Vernita - I doubt if anyone would let you forget that! All that hay in Jay's pick up - That ended up to be a real riot.

Once we walked from our homes to Mikes in Estes and then over to Schmidts. That was the night the guys drove some golf balls (what a ball!)

Once upon a time we planned a gathering for a birthday ~~Party~~ and the guest of honor didn't even show up. No one did 'captin' Spanky. That night you were the "pedal-pusher."

But these all just a few incidents - there are oodles & gobs of things that happen every day - Like makin' Fred take us home and all our talks, And our to Lansing and all my car-failure & your heart failure experiences to and from.

Golly I 'most forgot to remind ya' of Senior Assembly day & Bidwell's convertible and of taking Form of Writing.

Remember those stupid ORTA applications we worked so hard filling out. You're so sweet & we're gonna have so much fun this summer too. Bestest Luck to the Bestest Friend, Marsha

Sue
you sure have been a great sister.
I wouldn't have your smiling face and cute

"dimples". I want you to promise to be good next year at State - with Gil so close and see me! even if you don't have something better to do! Remember all the fun we had this year - like driving Fred's mustang! There's lots of things I could say, but it would take forever!
Good luck with "Gil" and everyone else who may be in the future. Thanks for getting me out of class to go on your club trips. Don't forget the awful time we had passing tests in chemistry - and all the extra credit reports we had to do together. Oh - thanks for struggle through cute another Alg. problems this year & I couldn't listening to all my "big" problems for myself without you have got through feeling sorry for me! I'll see "Gil" !!! Be a
